Flood Tides Ravage Coast

Kennedy Asks Revival Of Steel Talks

Compliance Is Indicated By Both Sides

President Requests Union And Industry Meet Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy appealed Wednesday for quick new starts next week toward peace in the U.S. steel industry and toward peace in the world through disarmament.

Kennedy didn't tie these topics together in any particular way—except indirectly by means of a single date, the importance he gives them, and the fact that they were top subjects at a presidential news conference.

The date is March 14.

Kennedy teed off his session with reporters with word that he had dispatched telegrams to steel company executives and President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers Union asking a resumption of bargaining on a new contract by then.

Negotiations on a contract to replace one expiring June 30 were broken off last Friday. McDonald suggested then they not be resumed before May 1, whereas the administration has been pressing for an early settlement in the interests of economic stability.

There were indications in both labor and management camps that Kennedy's plea would be heeded.

McDonald announced in Pittsburgh that he had sent Kennedy a telegram saying the union will comply with the President's request. He did not indicate when bargaining might resume.

Industry Accepts

The steel industry's negotiators sent Kennedy a reply accepting next Wednesday for resumption of negotiations. They noted the industry had said at last Friday's breakup they were willing to meet again at any time.

Acceptance by the industry, and evident willingess of the union also to resume talks, left undecided where the new talks will be conducted, but presumably this will be Pittsburgh as heretofore.

March 14 also is the date an 18-nation disarmament conference opens in Geneva.

Kennedy called it an extremely important meeting. He said, too, it would be entirely proper to discuss there the problems of Berlin and Southeast Asia. And he said that even if the United States resumes nuclear tests in the atmosphere it still will keep pressing for a test ban to head off a perpetual nuclear arms race he said would be risky for the future of the human race.

The President announced last Friday that this country would start testing in the air again by late April if by that time the Russians have not agreed to a test ban with an effective inspection system.

Jobless Rate Drop Noted

At this conference, his seventh in 1962, Kennedy also dealt with these other matters:

Employment—He contended the U.S. economy "has more vitality" than some of its mourners believe.

He noted with approval that the unemployment rate for February had dropped to 5.6 per cent of the labor force, the lowest ratio in 19 months.

Powers—Kennedy said he had no comment beyond what the Central Intelligence Agency and U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers told Congress about Powers' disastrous flight into Russia in 1960.

Summit — Kennedy prompted a wave of laughter when he said his position toward summit meetings had not changed. A newsman had noted that a number of commentators were saying that Kennedy was about to eat his own words and attend a summit meeting without any agreement at a lower diplomatic level.

"Well, I am going to have a dinner with all of the people who have written it and we will see

U.S. Negotiates Tariff Slashes

4-3 Advantage Claimed In Pacts With 24 Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has announced a series of tariff-cutting agreements with 24 countries, and said the United States has gained a 4-3 advantage in their negotiation.

In making this contention, it said other countries agreed to lower tariffs on items which, in 1960, accounted for $1.6 billion worth of their purchases from the United States. On the other hand, U.S. tariff concessions covered commodities involved in $1.2 billion worth of U.S. purchases from those countries in the same year.

The negotiations were described as the largest and most complex in the 28-year history of the Trade Agreements Act. They were conducted in Geneva and involved, in addition to the United States, all the member countries of the European Economic Community and 18 other nations.

On most items slated for lower tariffs, the reductions will be 20 per cent. In a few cases, however, the cuts range up to 26 per cent.

24% Slash On Autos

One notable example was automobiles, where tariffs will be slashed by 24 per cent.

The White House estimated Wednesday that, once the reduction on new cars goes into effect, the average American auto shipped to the European market will cost $126 less. On foreign-made cars entering the United States, tariffs would be cut about $21.50 a car.

The tariff cuts are expected to be put into effect soon, but the exact time is yet to be determined. It has to be worked out among all the nations involved.

In the negotiations, an understanding was reached that the European Economic Community will negotiate later on lowering tariffs on American agricultural commodities. The White House said this represented a fundamental change in the position of the European nations.

The tariff cuts negotiated in these agreements went about as far as President Kennedy could go under the present trade agreements law which expires June 30.

President Seeks New Law

Kennedy on Jan. 25 asked Congress to enact a new trade law which would permit him to negotiate 50 per cent tariff cuts with Western Europe and provide for the gradual elimination of all tariffs on a wide variety of industrial items.

The proposed new law would authorize lower tariffs on categories of goods, instead of item by item. The agreements announced Wednesday were limited by present law to item by item action.

The announcement said that in addition to autos, other countries ordered tariff concessions of particular importance on chemicals and pharmaceuticals, industrial and electrical machinery, textiles, canned and preserved fruits and fats and oils.

The main concessions granted by the United States covered autos, certain classes of machinery and electrical apparatus, some steel products and glassware.

Unemployment Rate Drops To 19-Month Low

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's unemployment rate dropped in February to a 19-month low of 5.6 per cent of the work force—bringing a cheer from President Kennedy.

The Labor Department had some more good news Wednesday on the job front. It reported employment rose by 731,000 to 65,789,000 while unemployment dropped by 120,000 to 4,543,000. Both figures were far better than was expected for this time of year.

The President cited the new figures at his news conference, noting that February employment hit a record for the month. He disagreed that economic recovery had struck a snag, noting there had been a lull last August and September leading to a new climb in the fall months.

Officials said the improvement represented some rebound from adverse job conditions resulting from heavy winter weather in January. But they also indicated the figures represented new economic gains.

The employment rise was more than five times the 130,000 normally expected increase in jobs between January and February. An increase of about 75,000 among the unemployed had been forecast instead of the encouraging total decline of 120,000.

Rising employment and declining unemployment brought the seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment down from 5.8 per cent of the work force in January to 5.6 per cent in February—lowest rate for any month since July 1960.

The rate had been 6 per cent in December. A year ago at the low point of the recession the rate was 6.9 per cent.

Story Of Mass Murder At Sea Checked By FBI

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation is checking into a man's story that he took part in slaying 20 persons on the high seas off Cuba in the latter part of 1959.

The claim was made to Huntington City Police during routine questioning of a suspect arrested in a felony case.

Authorities said they had no record of any such mass killing but added that such a case might have escaped attention if it took pace on the high seas.

Detective Chief Herman A. Frazier said the prisoner told police that he and five companions killed 3 Americans and 17 non-U. S. citizens in a small yacht and threw their bodies into the sea.

Frazier withheld the name of the man and details of his story pending investigation by the FBI.

27 Perish, Thousands Evacuated

Property Damage From Huge Waves Runs In Millions

By The Associated Press

A vicious backlash from one of the worst winter storms on record ravaged the East Coast Wednesday from New England to the Carolinas. Surging tides, violent winds and waves as high as a four-story building caused damage in the millions, exceeding that of many a full-fledged hurricane.

"The storm is the worst we ever had," said Lester Wise, 45, a Maryland refugee. The U.S. Weather Bureau in Washington was inclined to agree.

At least 27 persons lost their lives in a seven-state coastal area. Five children from one family were swept to death by flood waters at Bowers, Del. A patient died for lack of oxygen at a storm-battered hospital in Sea Isle City, N.J.

Property damage in North Carolina stood at nearly $3 million. Atlantic City, N.J., alone estimated its losses at over $5 million.

Tides up to 10 feet above normal rolled completely over coastal islands as thousands fled for their lives. Whole communities in southern New Jersey were covered by up to five feet of water.

Wallops Island Flooded

Helicopters, boats and amphibious vehicles were used to evacuate refugees. Power was out in some sections. Food and water were dangerously low in some communities.

The nation's missile research program received a setback when flood waters inundated Wallops Island, Va., a launching site for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Damage ran into uncounted millions from tides six feet above normal, waves 25 feet high and winds that gusted up to 84 m.p.h.

Police Chief Jerry Sullivan said of hard-hit Atlantic City, N.J., that the damage from the 1944 hurricane was $5 million and this will be more.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes asked that the New Jersey coast be declared a federal disaster area.

The storm moved up the coast Tuesday, dropping up to three feet of snow in Virginia before it veered out to sea. But its effects on wind and tide lingered long after skies cleared and a bright winter sun emerged.

Ocean City, Md., Hit Hard

Metropolitan New York, spared any heavy snowfall, was buffeted by winds up to 50 m.p.h. Streets in lower Manhattan were flooded, water covering parked cars in some areas. Coney Island was virtually awash.

The National Guard sent emergency water supplies into Beach Haven and Cape May, N.J., after floods contaminated the regular sources.

At Ocean City, Md., Ben Nelson, American Red Cross representative, helping to evacuate 1,000 year-around residents, said it was the worst storm they have seen in Ocean City in 35 years.

Robert Hess was awaiting evacuation from a motel he owns in Ocean City and reported by telephone:

"You can't see land anywhere," he said. "We're hanging on, just waiting. I hope someone gets to us. My God, a wave just broke

Pilot Predicts Another Effort To Oust Diem

EDITOR'S NOTE — Seng Meakly, Associated Press correspondent in Phnom Penh, has obtained an interview with one of the two Vietnamese fighter pilots who bombed and strafed the presidential palace in Saigon last week. The pilot flew to neighboring Cambodia and was granted political asylum.

By SENG MEAKLY

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—A smiling young Vietnamese pilot, one of two who carried out a spectacular aerial attack on the presidential palace in Saigon last week, predicted another effort will be made to overthrow President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam.

"As long as Diem stays in power, one can predict there will be more attempts to overthrow him," Lt. Nguyen Van Cu said in an interview Wednesday.

"There are many elements in the Vietnamese air force who are not able to support Diem's dictatorship. The Vietnamese people and elements of its army detest President Diem's regime and his family."

After the attack that sent fire to a wing of the palace, Cu flew his plane to Cambodia, made a crash landing, and was given asylu. His companion was shot down in South Viet Nam and captured.

Vietnamese authorities have declared Cu and his colleague, Lt. Pham Phu Quoc, are traitors deserving the death penalty.

Cu and Quoc took off early Feb. 27 on a strafing mission in southern Viet Nam.

"With my comrade Lt. Quoc, I was to carry out a mission in a certain region south of Saigon," Cu said. "I used this mission as a pretext to bomb the presidential palace. My acts were for the Vietnamese people, who detest the Diem regime and government."

Cu, who joined the Vietnamese air force in 1955, received 23 months of pilot training in the United States. He speaks English well.

Asked why he had made the raid, Cu said his action had been "purely nationalist, without any foreign influence."

Solar Observatory Is Lofted Into Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A complex solar observatory soared into orbit Wednesday to probe mysteries of the sun, how it controls conditions on earth and the peril that giant solar flares hold for human space travelers.

Nicknamed OSO for orbiting solar observatory, the 458-pound laboratory was hoisted into a 350-mile-high orbit by a Thor-Delta rocket launched from this spaceport at 11:06 a.m.

Almost immediately, OSO's instruments began radioing information on radiation streaming from the sun. From its vantage point above the cluttering veil of the earth's atmosphere, the satellite provided scientists with their first direct solar studies.

OSO is the first of several observatories planned to seek basic scientific data about the sun, the huge furnace at the center of the solar system about which the earth and eight other planets orbit.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration hopes a procession of such satellites will help answer such questions as how the sun determines the earth's weather, disturbs radio and television communications by bombarding the ionosphere with radiation, and alters the composition of the globe-girdling Van Allen radiation belts.

The space observatories will investigate the danger posed to astronauts by oceans of radiation flowing through the universe during periods of great flare activity on the sun. The studies may make it possible to predict periods of intense activity and enable rocketmen to schedule deep-probing manned space flights around them.

Development of an accurate forecasting system is a high priority goal of the United States, which plans to launch three-man Apollo spaceship crews around and to the moon in the 1966-68 period — a time when formulas worked out by scientists indicate flare activity will be heavy.

The space agency hopes to launch at least one solar observatory a year to chart a full 11-year sunspot—or flare—cycle.

Packed in the OSO payload was a dazzling array of 13 experiments to measure flare activity; various types of radiation in many energy ranges; how millions of tons of hydrogen on the sun are converted into helium with the spillover being transferred to the solar system in the form of heat and light; solar X rays which penetrate deeply into the ionosphere and affect radio communications; and gamma rays—both from the sun and other sources in space—which possibly hold clues to elements making up the universe.

Mother Is Held For Poisoning Her 10 Children

BLOOMFIELD, Ind. (AP) — A 35-year-old mother was held Wednesday on charges of giving rat poison to her husband and 10 children.

But the father, Edward Lane, 37, under treatment in a Veterans Administration hospital in Indianapolis for acute arsenic poisoning, said, "I hold no bitterness toward anyone."

Lane, who works as a plumber in Bloomington, said he hopes to arrange proper treatment for his wife, Fay Ellen, so he could "get right back with her."

Tests showed arsenic in her body, as in her husband and all their children, aged 4 to 17. Four of them are in Indianapolis hospitals.

Lane became violently ill Jan. 30 after drinking buttermilk his wife had given him.

"She was perfectly normal sometimes—just as sweet as can be," Lane said. "But she'd fly off the handle at other times for no apparent reason."

Mrs. Lane, who said, "I have blackouts," was held in $3,000 bail after her arrest Tuesday.

Huge Wave Engulfs Train In Britain

LONDON (AP) — A towering, gale-driven wave swept inshore and onto the cautiously moving Devonian Express Wednesday night, causing a landslide that blocked all rail communications with Cornwall. Authorities estimated the wave was 60 feet high.

The Devonian Express motorman and firemen were badly cut by flying glass when the wave engulfed and shattered windows of their diesel cab. Passengers were reported to have escaped serious injury.

The wind-powered wave started a landslide across the double track. A few minutes later the Bristol Express from Truro, heading in the opposite direction to that of the Devonian, ran head on into the landslide.

Both trains were proceeding slowly at the time because of the precarious condition of the storm-lashed roadbed.

Coastal villages in Cornwall and Devon were awash in many areas and many families were marooned.

Algerian Peace Drive Enters Its Final Phase

EVIAN, France (UPI)— French and Algerian rebel negotiators opened a final round of peace talks here Wednesday under protection of machine guns. The rebels promptly demanded that France pledge to launch all-out war against the Secret Army Organization (OAS) if it tried to sabotage a cease-fire.

Reliable French sources, however, said both sides exchanged assurances at the start of the talks that neither would go back on the draft cease-fire accord already worked out in secret negotiations last month.

The two delegations met in morning and afternoon sessions in their drive to end the 7½-year-old Algerian War before terrorist violence in Algeria rages out of control. To guard against any attempt by the outlawed OAS to wreck the Evian talks, French authorities virtually sealed off this Lake Geneva resort town with a tight security cordon.

The Algerian delegation, which is living on the Swiss side of the lake opposite Evian,, arrived aboard three Swiss army helicopters that touched down on the lawn just in front of the Hotel Du Parc, site of the conference.

Two French army half-tracks, with heavy anti-aircraft machine guns mounted on them, kept guard over the landing strip, and strong forces of blue-uniformed Republican security guards surrounded the hotel grounds.

The talks were expected to last eight to 10 days. Both sides proclaimed their determination, despite the prospect of tough bargaining, to reach agreement on a cease-fire that was expected to lead to full independence for Algeria by the end of this year.

Because of the touchy nature of the talks, both French and Algerian delegates agreed on a policy of secrecy, and newsmen were kept at a distance.

Balky Red Witness Jailed For Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP) — A witness, identified as a top U.S. Communist who balked at answering a grand jury's questions about the party, went to jail Wednesday for contempt.

Philip Bart, 59, came here from his Brooklyn, N.Y., home and surrendered to U.S. marshals who put him behind bars, David C. Acheson, U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia, said.

Bart, a printer, was identified in court as organizational secretary of the Communist party in this country. Last Wednesday he was ordered imprisoned for up to six months for refusing to answer 47 questions the grand jury asked him.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Chester Bowles, President Kennedy's special adviser on Asian, African and Latin-American affairs, arrived Wednesday from Bangkok. He was received by Prince Norodom Sihanouk, chief of state of this neutralist monarchy.

Jackie Will Leave Today On First Leg Of India Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy leaves Thursday on the first leg of her trimmed-down trip to India. It will follow much the same path Britain's Queen Elizabeth II took on a royal tour in 1961.

President Kennedy plans to go to National Airport to see his wife off for the brief hop to New York City.

She will be abroad 20 days.

The First Lady will fly the 15,000 mile overseas route by commercial and charter plane.

She'll stay overnight in New York, pick up her sister and traveling companion, Princess Lee Radziwill, and take off Friday night for a weekend in Rome.

When Mrs. Kennedy arrives in New Delhi India next Monday for a four-day stay, her first formal ceremony will be the same gesture made there by Queen Elizabeth—laying a wreath of white rose at the shrine of India's famed independence leader, Mohandas K. Gandhi.

The First Lady's Indian itinerary shows stops at the Taj Mahal, Udaipur and the pink city of Jaipur.

Mrs. Kennedy will be the first American First Lady to vist India.

She cut eight days from the Indian segment of her trip because of a low-grade sinus infection that has caused her to run a low fever occasionally for the past several months.

A medical checkup by a specialist on Tuesday showed she was much improved, no longer has a fever and is responding well to antibiotic medication. She will continue the treatment during her trip abroad, a White House spokesman said.

Guterma 'Running Show,' Stock Case Defense Says

NEW YORK (AP)—A defense attorney in a stock fraud conspiracy case said Wednesday that imprisoned financier Alexander Guterma is "running the show" in the U.S. attorney's office here as a prospective government witness.

The attorney, William G. Mulligan, said Guterma, imprisoned in a similar case after allegations that he virtually bankrupted several big companies to line his own pockets, may be expected to indulge in unprecedented "breast-beating" at the trial of the 12 alleged conspirators.

Guterma has gotten himself moved from the federal prison in Atlanta to New York, has set up "office hours" in the U.S. attorney' office here, and is "sitting at the desk of the assistant U.S. attorney making telephone calls," Mulligan charged.

Mulligan, who represents defendant Samuel S. Garfield, oil investor from Clare, Mich., also denied flatly in his opening statement a charge made Tuesday by Asst. U.S. Atty. Gerald Walpin that Garfield paid the late Sen. George Bender, R-Ohio, $100,000 to use his influence in quashing an investigation of Garfield. Walpin said that at the time Bender was special assistant to the Secretary of the Interior in the Eisenhower administration.

Guterma, mystery Wall Street "wizard" who came here from the Far East to parley turpentine mills into a huge financial empire, is expected to be the key witness in the current case. It involves alleged sales of unregistered stock of United Dye and Chemical Corp., now called Chemoil Industries, Ind.

Final Action Set On Job Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees approved a $435-million manpower training and development bill Wednesday and tagged it for final action.

The legislation was described by its backers as a first step toward retraining workers who have been thrown out of their jobs by new machinery.

It also is designed to upgrade the skills of persons already employed.

More than a million persons are expected to be benefited during the three-year program.

President Kennedy urged passage of the measure and Republican legislators played a big part in working out the final compromise version.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., who headed the Senate conferees, said he would try to get a Senate vote on it Thursday and predicted the bill would soon be on Kennedy's desk.

The bill represents an adjustment of a four-year, $655-million measure passed by the Senate last August, and a two-year, $263-million House bill passed on Feb. 28.

Flood Rips Ocean City, Md.; Hundreds Flee

Atlantic Storm Plus High Tides Causing Floods

WASHINGTON (AP) — Winds from one of the worst winter Atlantic storms ever recorded, at a time when the moon cycle normally brings high tides, combined to produce the devastating high water Wednesday on much of the U.S. East Coast.

Ships at sea reported winds of 70 knots or more and waves as great as 40 feet in communications to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

The main path of the wind, out of the northeast, was along a line extending from about 300 miles off Cape Cod to the Virginia-North Carolina coast.

In a meteorologist's or sailor's term this is a long fetch of about 600 miles. Such a long fetch gives time and opportunity for the winds to pile up water before them.

The rush of wind, pushing and dragging water, was at a time when tides in the normal course would have been high.

Son Born While Mother Under Phone Hypnosis

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The doctor's car was stalled in traffic because of the snow and Mrs. Donna Kerns couldn't wait.

"Relax, you are going into a deep sleep," said the voice over a telephone held to her ear in a hospital room Tuesday.

About an hour and a half later the 30-year-old Charleston woman gave birth to an eight-pound, nine-ounce son while under hypnosis of the voice in an office five miles away.

Hospital officials said to their knowledge it was one of the first cases of using a telephone to hypnotize a patient.

Defense Chief, Vinson In B70 Spending Clash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the powerful chairman of the House Armed Services Committee have squared off for a battle over the committee's effort to force the Pentagon to spend about $300 million more on the B70 bomber.

McNamara—stressing he considers the issue serious—said he has asked for a chance to state his case before other House and Senate committee that eventually will have to pass on it.

Speaking before the Advertising Council Wednesday, he disclosed that the nation's military chiefs—except for Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, the Air Force head — two days ago had reaffirmed support for the administration's present limited B70 development program.

A few hours later, Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the armed services group appealed to the House for support of his committee's effort to direct McNamara to spend $491 million on the B70 next year.

Petroleum Pipeline Company Organized

ATLANTA (AP) — Organization of a new pipeline company to carry petroleum products from Texas to New York was announced Wednesday.

Governor Asks Kennedy Declare Disaster Area

By The Associated Press

Western Maryland shrugged off the heaviest snowstorm of the season Wednesday but the Eastern Shore reeled from a multimillion dollar blow at its famous resort areas.

State Police said highways, except some secondary roads and in flooded areas of the Eastern Shore, were passable. The majority of the main thoroughfares were wet. All main highways had been sanded.

Although Western Maryland caught the brunt of the snowstorm Monday and Tuesday—up to 28 inches fell in some areas—Ocean City and other resorts along the Atlantic Ocean caught the severest damage.

Thousands of persons were evacuated from the shoreline resorts along the mid-Atlantic Coast and the area around Maryland's Ocean City was a scene of devastation.

Most of the some 1,000 residents of Ocean City fled as floods of ocean water swept through the community. An observer described the Coronado Motel as looking as if it had been piled into a stack of junk by a bulldozer.

At least three fires burned unchecked because water blocked progress of firemen to the scene. Beach homes were tossed far inland. At least three hotels were demolished. State Police tried to pinpoint a report that a new inlet had been cut across the sandy peninsula somewhere around 75th St.

Streets were covered by water and brainy, mushy sand. The town's water and power supplies were off and Mayor Hugh Cropper warned those residents who declined to leave that they should not drink water until it can be tested. He said he feared it was contaminated.

Gov. Tawes sent a telegram to President Kennedy which read:

"Ocean City, Md., has been struck by a tremendous storm, and the situation there now is of disaster proportions.

"I have informed local authorities that every facility of the state is at their disposal. I urgently request you to declare Ocean City and vicinity disaster areas and provide all available federal assistance."

The Weather Bureau predicted fair weather, sunshine and warmer temperatures for Thursday.

The clear weather will help repair crews still struggling to get telephone and electrical service restored, particularly in Frederick and Carroll counties, among the hardest hit by the snow.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. hoped to have half the 16,000 out-of-order telephones back in service by Thursday. A spokesman said the balance would be restored within a few days.

Washington County residents huddled over wood fires in heatless homes as electrically activated furnaces stayed cold because of power shortages.

Schools in Baltimore City, Cecil, Prince Georges, Frederick, Harford and Allegany schools were closed Wednesday but most were expected to reopen Thursday.

Two U.S. Convoys Cross East Germany

BERLIN (UPI)—Two U.S. Army convoys rolled across Communist East Germany without incident Wednesday.

The two-way movement itself was accomplished without incident. But Russian guards at the Babelsberg checkpoint outside Berlin held up the westbound convoy for about a half-hour when a dispute arose over the number of men its 27 jeeps and trucks were carrying.

The Russians counted 197 soldiers. But there were 191 and a U.S. Army spokesman said it took an hour and 52 minutes to clear the convoy, a process that usually takes 80 minutes.

Judith Anderson To Be At Frostburg STC Mar. 19

Dame Judith Anderson's appearance at State Teachers College, Frostburg, March 19 as star of "Medea '62" and "Lady Macbeth" will give theatregoers an opportunity to see two of the most celebrated permormances of the modern theatre, Miss Dorothy Stone White, head of the drama department at the college, said last evening. Hailed by critics as the outstanding classical actress of the English speaking stage, Dame Judith has had her greatest challenges and triumphs in these roles.

The vengeful fury Medea is one of the most demanding parts ever written for a woman. One critic in describing the Anderson performance said, "She starts with an earthquake. Then she builds to a climax." Before Dame Judith opened the Jeffers-Euripides play, the idea of offering Greek drama to the American public was regarded as a dubious commercial venture. The opening night triumph, when the New York audience literally stood up and cheered, was a theatrical landmark. For the first time in modern America a classic Greek drama was a solid box-office hit.

The "Medea" to be presented at 8:15 p. m., in Compton Hall auditorium has been abridged to cut minor characters and speed the drama's violent action. This allows time for Dame Judith and four fellow actors to present "Lady Macbeth" as a first act. The star won two TV "Best Actresses" Emmies for her dramatic study of ambition and murder in this role. Her performance concludes with the celebrated sleep-walking scene.

Appearing as "Macbeth" and "Jason" opposite Dame Judith, is William Roerick. Although a veteran classic actor, he is identified by millions of daytime TV fans as the southern colonel on the "Clear Horizon" series. His Shakespearean assignments have included major roles in the Sir John Gielgud "Hamlet", in which he appears with Judith Anderson for the first time, and in the Katherine Cornell "Romeo and Juliet."

The Semper Fidelis Class of First EUB Church will meet at 8 tonight at the church, followed by a baked goods sale. Mrs. Elmer Freeland and Mrs. F. L. Wilson are hostesses.

Outlook Dim For Md. Legislature Approval Of Teacher Pay Boost

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A $7.4 million teachers pay bill, tied up by parliamentary procedure in the Senate, has little chance of enactment by the 1962 Maryland General Assembly.

The measure probably won't be ready for Senate passage until Thursday, allowing less than one day for complete action by the House.

Even that wouldn't insure salary boosts for the public school teachers, because Gov. Tawes opposes the bill and probably would veto it.

The pay hike, supported by the Maryland State Teachers Association, was reported unfavorably Wednesday by the Senate Finance Committee. Sen. Harry T. Phoebus, R-Somerset, one of six sponsors of the bill, said the vote was 7-6 with two committee members not voting.

Sen. Charles M. See, R-Allegany, who contended "It's time we do something on the matter, or shut up," moved that the bill be substituted for the committee report.

The motion passed 18-10 after nine senators explained their votes.

Sen. Frederick C. Malkus Jr., D-Dorchester, pointed out that the bill was unconstitutional because the budget enacted Monday does not provide funds to finance the pay raises. He offered an amendment to make the bill take effect June 1, 1963.

The amendment was laid over at the request of Sen. William S. James, D-Harford.

With the Senate still on the legislative day of March 6, the amendment cannot be taken up until the calendar advances to March 7 sometime Wednesday night.

The final Senate vote would be taken Thursday, unless 20 votes are obtained to suspend the rules.

Sterilization Bill Approved By Va. Assembly

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia's General Assembly has approved a voluntary sterilization bill far removed from the compulsory sterilization measure tied to welfare payments introduced early in the current legislative session.

Final approval of the bill came when the House concurred with Senate amendments and forwarded the measure to Gov. Albertis S. Harrison Jr., for his signature.

Under terms of the bill, any person over 21 years of age may request a surgeon to perform an operation that will result in sexual sterilization. A second physician must be called in for consultation and after a 30-day waiting period the operation may be performed in a licensed hospital.

Proponents of the controversial measure say Virginia's present laws on the subject are so vague that many women who, for reasons of health and general welfare, should have such operations are denied them.

Park Planners Seek U.S. Aid For Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maryland park planning officials are bidding for federal aid to complete a Stream Valley park system in Prince Georges and Montgomery counties.

Jesse F. Nicholson,of the Maryland-National Capital Park Commission, said Maryland has advanced more than $1.8 million for these parks.

The Marylander spoke for a federal grant of $600,000 in testimony released Wednesday by a House Appropriations subcommittee.

If approved by Congress, the grant would be used to acquire more land for the Stream Valley park system, he said.

Mahoney Hits Case Bill's Lack Of Jail-Term Clause

BALTIMORE (AP)—Democratic gubernatorial candidate George P. Mahoney has criticized what he calls the failure of the Tawes administration to place a prison-term clause in the Case Bill.

Mahoney said present punishment outlined in the bill—which was drawn to curtail fraudulent savings and loan associations — amounts to nothing more than "a slap on the wrist." The bill in its present form calls for a fine of $1,000.

Mahoney also criticized Gov. Tawes on making no provision in his budget for 400 beds in a state mental hospital, and for not insisting upon the inclusion of a minimum pay scale clause in specifications for bidding on the state-financed segments of the Northeast Turnpike.

Meanwhile, Tawes was endorsed for re-election by C. William Hetzer, former state chairman of the Democratic Party from Washington County.

"I have followed his administrative actions with pride and favor," Hetzer said in a statement released from Tawes headquarters Wednesday. "He has demonstrated courage, ability and leadership . . . I shall labor in his behalf and extend best wishes for his success."

Hetzer served as state chairman of the party from 1946 to 1958. He is now chairman of the board of directors of Baltimore Raceway and president of Bel Air Racetrack.

Mahoney also contended the plan to reorganize the Phoenix Savings and Loan Association of Baltimore is aimed "at protecting the insiders and not the luckless depositors."

He said the only persons who will benefit from reorganization plans are those who formed the Security Financial Insurance Corp.—whom he named as A. Gordon Boone and James Pine. They were appointed conservator for Phoenix, devised the plan whereby $500,000 would be raised to shore up the firm. Withdrawals would be limited during the first two years of reorganization.

Rail Firemen Pledge Fight For Jobs

CHICAGO (AP)—President H. E. Gilbert of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen predicted Wednesday that 45,000 members won't surrender their jobs.

But he called any strike talk premature and forecast "hard-nosed" negotiations on suggested changes in railroad work rules.

A presidential commission proposed last week an overhaul of rail labor practices. Among other steps, it recommended a gradual elimination of 45,000 firemen on diesel locomotives in freight and yard service over the next 10 years. Rail lines figured that would save about $250 million a year in wages.

"I don't believe 45,000 locomotive helpers (firemen) will surrender their rights to perform their jobs nor the security given their future by a collective bargaining agreement," Gilbert told a meeting of his union's officers.

"The key issue in the firemen's case is the work now performed by our craft. We intend to protect the right of our members to do the work as long as it is there."

Only one-tenth of the population of the Hawaiian Islands is Hawaiian.

Judge Orders Reinstatement Of IBEW Local

BALTIMORE (AP)—Local 28 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers must be reinstated in the parent organization, U. S. District Court Judge Roszel C. Thomsen ruled Wednesday.

The ruling decided a bitterly fought case between Local 28 and the IBEW, arising when the international revoked the local's charter after a wildcat strike last June.

Thomsen held that while the local violated the union constitution by striking without permission, the subsequent hearing before Gordon M. Freeman, IBEW president, did not constitute a fair hearing before the charter was revoked.

Moreover, Thomsen ruled, revocation of the charter amounted to "unreasonable and unjust discipline and punishment of the members of Local 28, in violation of their rights (under the Landrum-Griffith Act)."

He directed that Local 28, with about 1,400 members, be restored to its former position with the IBEW. He also ordered the charter of Local 24, which replaced Local 28, be revoked.

Local 24 was chartered immediately after Local 28 was ousted last June. Thomsen stipulated restoration of Local 28 will be conditioned upon admission to it of all members of Local 24, as well as former members of Local 28 who left after its charter was revoked.

Maryland News In Brief

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State Department of Health says at least 900 Maryland children 5 years old or younger were victims of accidental poisoning last year.

Dr. Ruth A. Asbed, chief of the department's maternal and child division, said "year-round vigilance" is needed to curtail the poisoning due to consumption of harmful substances in the home.

She said youngsters should be kept away from substances such as strong detergents, furniture polishes, bleaches and medicines and insect sprays.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The airport board reports that 114,264 persons moved through Friendship International Airport last January.

The board said the figure represents a 60 per cent gain over the traffic recorded during the same period last year.

KENNEDYVILLE, Md. (AP)—Robert J. Comeguys, 43, Kennedyville, was killed Tuesday and his wife was injured when their car skidded on a slippery, snow-covered road and smashed into an embankment.

State Police said Mrs. Annie Comeguys was in fair condition. Two Comegys children, Theresa, 10, and Cynthia, 14, were treated for minor injuries and released.

Troopers said the accident occurred at the intersection of Round Town Road and State 447.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Firemen in a fire engine raced a bulldozer trying to reach an expectant mother in nearby Baltimore County Tuesday. The firemen, tearing down fences in their path, won.

Mrs. Bauerlein gave birth to her fifth child, a 7-pound girl, in Baltimore General Hospital eight hours after her husband summoned an ambulance.

The ambulance, bogged down in heavy snow, called for help from bulldozer crews. They began clearing a path through a road to the Bauerlein residence, but the volunteer firemen took a short cut through the fields.

BALTIMORE (AP) — St. Patrick's Day paraders may march beside a green center line this year for the first time in Baltimore's history.

The city's new traffic commissioner, James L. Foley Jr. says he is "favorably inclined" toward granting Irish organizations' requests for the painting of such a line down Cathedral Street.

Foley's predecessor, Henry A. Barnes, had turned down such requests in the past.

BALTIMORE (AP)—John Williams, 66, was dead on arrival at University Hospital Tuesday after he was burned in a house fire. He was found in a third floor room during the blaze.

Mighty Atom Carrier Enterprise Eighth In Dynasty Dating Back To Revolution

By CHED DI MAURO

NEW YORK (UPI)—The mighty USS Enterprise is America's First Lady of the Sea.

The Enterprise, the world's first and only nuclear-powered capital ship, heralds the navies of the future. Her concept is revolutionary, and in size and power she dwarfs her contemporaries.

But when this futuristic carrier sailed from Norfolk, Va., on a cold, blustery winter day, she carried into the space age one of America's longest naval traditions. She is the eighth in the Enterprise dynasty, which was born during the Revolutionary War. Her ancestors fought in every war and sailed every sea—battling swashbuckling pirates, proud men o'war, lurking submarines and high-flying bombers.

The Enterprise, commissioned last Nov. 19, churned to sea under power generated by eight nuclear reactors, their energy potential as great as that of all the reactors in the free world outside the U.S. Navy. This ship displaces 85,000 tons and has a flight deck of four and one-half acres.

It is not only the world's biggest fighting ship, it is the mightiest. Its jet attack planes, 100 or more in number and virtually limitless in warmaking potential, can be sent airborne as swiftly as a boy propels stones from a slingshot. The Navy says the jets can be launched at the rate of one every 15 seconds from four steam-driven catapults.

The carrier's speed is more than 30 knots—its exact performance capabilities a secret. Its load of nuclear fuel will last almost indefinitely and the small storage space required for it gives the ship another bonus factor. Where other carriers must store thousands of gallons of fuel oil to power their own engines, the Enterprise can hold fuel for its jet aircraft.

But life aboard the Enterprise is not all nuclear-powered. Paint brushes, mops, brooms and galley (kitchen) details are still very much a part of navy routine. But the "new Navy" has these heretofore unknown advantages: nightly movies, air conditioning, foam rubber mattresses, individual bunk lights, soda fountains and TV lounges.

In command of the Enterprise's 4,600 officers and men is Capt. Vincent Paul de Poix. He is, at 46, one of the youngest carrier commanders in the Navy and the commanding officer of its only nuclear-powered capital ship.

The square-jawed skipper, whose close-cropped brown hair is greying slightly at the temples, considers the mighty vessel to still be in its "shake down" phase.

He speaks almost reverently of the Enterprise's vast complex of electronic guidance, operational and communications systems. But he is quick to remind listeners that "the human mind and eye ball have a long way to go before they will be replaced."

Whales May "Talk" To Each Other

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It seems there may be a whale of a lot more chit chat going on down there in the briny deep than scientists first suspected.

Researchers have said there is evidence that porpoises "talk" to each other. Now the Navy has found that perhaps whales carry on conversations, too.

The service has recorded on magnetic tape what could have been a chat between three killer whales. The Navy doesn't know what was "said," since the whales sounded a little like Swiss yodelers.

Their most characteristic noise was a sort of "eee-aw-eee" with the "eee" on a high, sustained pitch and the "aw" dropping down an octave or two lower.

Navy experts told United Press International that there is sufficient variation in the sounds to indicate they could be a kind of animal conversation.

The recording, made at the Navy's sound range at Dabob Bay near Seattle, Wash., has attracted the attention of high-ranking officials, including the chief of naval operations, Adm. George W. Anderson, Jr.

Porpoises, or dolphins, small relatives of the whale, appear to speak a language of their own and, at times, to mimic human speech. Their language has not been deciphered.

The Navy is planning further tests to determine whether a speech pattern can be detected in the whale recording.

Virginia Avenue PTA To Meet

Dr. Benjamin Feldman, local chiropodist, will discuss good foot health when he addresses the Virginia Avenue Parent-Teacher Association meeting Thursday, March 15 at 7:30 p. m.

The association, in an effort to promote attendance by fathers of children in school, will count "Dads" double in competition for the room attendance prize.

The second and third grade mothers will serve refreshments in the cafeteria after the business meeting, and a candy sale will be held in the entrance hall a half hour before the meeting.

South Magnetic Pole Is Object Of New Search

By The Associated Press

A new search for the wandering south magnetic pole; and sleep requirements in outer space are among latest examples of science at work:

Where's The Pole?

Word has reached Washington from Antarctica, via a National Science Foundation communique, that a couple of New Zealand scientists are off on a new quest to pin down the present position of the south magnetic pole—a constantly shifting area.

And, according to the foundation, there's reason to believe they'll find it has shifted from its last logged inland position on the icy continent itself to a spot somewhere out in the Pacific Ocean.

The magnetic pole—defined as the spot where a freely suspended magnetic needle points straight down—was "discovered" in 1909 at a point some 200 miles inland at about 72 degrees south and 155 degrees east.

Since then, it's been moving steadily northwestward toward the Pacific Ocean. In 1960, when last tagged, it was very close to Cape Denison, a spot on the George V coast often referred to as the windiest spot in the world.

Studies of the whereabouts of the magnetic pole—not to be confused with either (1) the south geographic pole or (2) the south geomagnetic pole—are all tied in with efforts to learn more about the earth's magnetism.

Attention John Glenn

Six hours sleep a day is adequate for most people, says the Air Force in a report on a new slumber study. Therefore, the service's researchers contend, things should work out well in space ships where there would be room for only a limited crew, with correspondingly heavy demands on the wide-awake times for individual crewmen. In fact, they say, a spaceman might well work a 10-hour stretch without knocking off for a snooze.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — A "Mrs." is the first degree most women seek.

After that come varying editions of the "Ma" — for mother — degree.

Now more and more females who have the two basic degrees are seeking the formal bachelor's degree in colleges nationwide. These mature students are called collegiate mothers.

Why do they go back to school? And what do they hope to do with their degrees once they earn them?

The questions are answered by collegiate mothers themselves in a report by a collegiate mother — Mrs. Marian Carter Lewis — in the maiden edition of "University Woman," a new quarterly published by Fairleigh Dickinson University in Madison, N. J.

"The answers are as individual as the women themselves, but they are all variations on the same . . . theme — woman's place in this modern world," Mrs. Lewis reports.

Among reasons cited by the married women at Fairleigh Dickinson are the following:

—"I have more time since my children are older."

—"Mine are still young and I'm tied down, but only my hands are busy; I want something in my head."

—"I want to keep up with my husband and children."

—"I just like to learn,' I guess."

Mostly, the mothers going back to school recognize that females are in a state of transition.

"Early marriage and child bearing with more outside activities for young children, coupled with labor saving devices, good health and prolonged life expectancy have given women a new kind of freedom," Mrs. Lewis said.

"The average woman is slightly past 30 when her last child starts school and she lives to be 70. What will she do for the next 40 years? Even a happy home is not enough if it is an empty home most of the day."

As Mrs. Lewis views the situation, modern woman's greatest challenge is to fill the spiritual vacuum left by the constant contact with gadgets and the time created by them.

And she says the women flocking to college campuses are meeting the challenge.

Girl Doesn't Let Snow Delay Wedding

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Dan Cupid outwitted Jack Frost Tuesday because of a Crafton girl's persistence.

Mary Ann Rooney awakened Tuesday morning to a world of white. It was her wedding day—the deadline before the Lenten season—and 15 inches of snow covered the ground.

Her wedding had been postponed once because of an illness in the family and she was determined that the ceremony would take place Tuesday despite the weather.

She donned slacks and boots and left for St. Philips Roman Catholic Church by automobile and arrived at 10:30 a.m. EST, a half hour late. Hardy friends and relatives waited in the church as Mary Ann changed into her bridal gown.

Minutes later she became the wife of Charles Rainsberger.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Tycoon Leads Dried Foods Quest

By CLAIRE COX

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —Harold J. Humphrey, for 30 years a leader in frozen foods development, has retired—to a full-time job.

He still is in the "business" of food processing, but instead of frozen food, he is developing dried, pulverized or powdered products.

The consumer he is courting is not the American housewife who can afford frozen dishes but the half-starved millions of persons, mainly children, in underdeveloped countries around the world.

"Consultant on nutrition" to the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) is Humphrey's title.

In practice, he is a sort of U.N. ambassador to the food industry of the world, to persuade private enterprise to offer its resources in the search for solutions to food problems overseas.

At the time he "retired," Humphrey was president of the National Association of Frozen Food Packers. He left General Foods in 1959 after having worked as a pioneer in the development of food freezing for home consumption.

His wife also "retired"—from housewifery to school teaching. She drives from their home at Ardsley-on-Hudson to Great Neck, N.Y., to instruct a special primary class. He commutes by train to U.N. headquarters in Manhattan.

In his U.N. job, Humphrey has been to Central America and India to find out what the natives of those areas need in the way of nutritional aid. And he has been to Europe and around the United States asking leaders of the food industry to help him find what is needed.

An example of the sort of food supplement UNICEF hopes to offer, particularly to children, has been developed in Central America. It is called Incaparina, named after the Institute of Nutrition of Central America and Panama (INCAP), whose experts concocted a mixture of cotton-seed flour, corn, sorghum, calcium and vitamins into a dry powder.

An ounce of Incaparina in a glass of boiled milk or water three times a day for six months has been found an almost sure cure for a severe type of protein deficiency in children.

Proteins are Humphrey's main interest. The kind of malnutrition existing among 400 or 500 million of the world's children is a result of protein deficiency.

For that reason, UNICEF is seeking ways of using powdered fish, soy beans and even coconuts, all reasonably high in protein content, to make cakes, cookies and other fare that can be distributed cheaply and easily and will not spoil in hot, humid climates.

Humphrey found in India, for example, that most of the residue left from the pressing of peanut oil, a major Indian product, was either fed to cattle or used as fertilizer. He wants to put it to better use, providing humans with proteins. The "press cake" left after making coconut oil in the Philippines would provide another good source of protein for humans he said.

Mechanical damage, not decay, is the chief reason for replacing railroad ties.

WM Railway Declares Dividend

BALTIMORE (AP) — Directors of Western Maryland Railway Co. declared Tuesday a quarterly dividend of 70 cents per share on the first preferred cumulative 7 per cent stock valued at $40.

Dividends of 15 cents per share were declared on the first preferred cumulative 5 per cent stock, $12 par value; 40 cents per share on the second preferred noncumulative 4 per cent stock, $40 par value, and 25 cents per share on the common stock, no par value.

All dividends are payable March 30 to stockholders of record at the close of business on March 20.

Wall Street Views

By JACK LEFLER

AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The breakoff of the steel industry's labor negotiations has been a depressing development for Wall Street.

Brokers had been hopeful of an early settlement, which they believed would put the economy on a steady climb. Delay, they felt would lead to heavy stockpiling as a hedge against a possible strike, and then a letdown later in the year.

U.S. Steel shares sold at a 1960-61 low in the wake of the interruption of negotiations.

The brokerage firm, A. M. Kidder & Co. called the breakdown of talks between producers and the United Steelworkers Union "a bitter disappointment."

It claimed that the results could be an upset for the economy.

Another brokerage firm, Thomson & McKinnon, was optimistic about the possibilities of getting the negotiations under way again.

It says President Kennedy is expected to get them going more promptly than the May 1 date suggested by the union.

Kenneth Ward of Hayde, Stone & Co. is of the opinion that the market's ability to hold so well last week against many uncertain factors was further evidence of its underlying technical strength and the continued reluctance of investors to abandon well entrenched positions in sound, dividend-paying issues with good earnings prospects.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
4 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Nine of ♣

The success of a great many contracts hinges on control of the lead. Wherever declarer is confronted with a choice in finessing, he may find it to his advantage to ask himself which opponent he wishes to have on lead. Failure to pose this question cost South a game in today's hand.

The bidding was routine. North has 10 points in high cards which seems to touch the upper limits of the requirements for a single raise. However the completely even distribution may be looked on as a slight defect, and he should not feel that his two heart bid is overly conservative. South, of course, has a comfortable jump to four hearts.

West opened the nine of clubs and, tho the finesse seemed destined to fail, declarer played the ten from dummy. East won the trick with the king and an immediate shift to the jack of diamonds netted the defenders three more tricks in that suit for a one trick set. South muttered something about two cards being wrong and the players proceeded to the next deal.

By the simple expedient of controlling the lead, declarer could have assured his contract against anything but a very bad break. All he had to do was to keep East out of the lead so that the diamond king would not be subject to direct attack.

The club opening is taken by dummy's ace of clubs and the top spade honors are cashed at once. A trump is led over to the eight and the jack of spades is returned. When East plays low, South discards the queen of clubs. West is in with the queen of spades and his best defense is to lead a fourth spade to kill the sluff. East ruffs and declarer overruffs. The last trump is drawn with dummy's nine of hearts and the jack of clubs is led. If East covers with the king, South ruffs and the ten of clubs is established for the needed diamond discard. The ace of hearts is still in dummy for a late entry. If East fails to cover the jack of clubs, South gets his discard immediately.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My fiance and I are having a disagreement and we want you to settle it before we marry.

Clyde comes from a well-to-do family. The most casual dinner at their home is like a state occasion. They always use fancy linen, good silver and the works. I was brought up in a middle-class family. My mother had to do all her own work so we cut a few corners here and there. Sometimes we used paper napkins, skipped bread and butter plates, and so on. Clyde has had dinner at our home several times and we have never tried to put on the dog. He has seen us as we are.

Now he has made a few "suggestions" for OUR home when we marry. He has asked me not to put catsup bottles, jelly jars or sour-cream cartons on the table. I say this is ridiculous. Putting such things in dishes and on plates makes extra work and the food doesn't taste one bit better. In fact a pickle out of the jar can't be beat.

We have agreed to let you settle it. If you do your own dishes, Ann, I know what you'll say. —HERE'S HOPING

DEAR HOPING: Remember the coast-to-coast, knock-down-drag-out we had in this column, starting with the question "Should a wife iron the bedsheets if her husband asks her to?" Well, please re-read the advice. It's the same.

If the extra niceties are important to a man, his wife should be willing to put herself out to please him. It's an even bet that he'll respond by being extra considerate to her, in return. Why would you wish to put jars and cartons on the table if you knew in advance that this would irritate the guy? The smart woman knows how to cast bread on the waters and get back sandwiches.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A note of thanks from me to you. Last week I wrote a letter to an old college chum. I told her my husband and I were planning to attend a convention in their city next June and that we'd like to stay at their home. I just KNEW that since we hadn't seen one another in years they'd be thrilled.

Recently in your column there were letters from Seattle, Reno, New York, Minneapolis, Phoenix, Las Vegas and Louisville. The people who wrote all voiced the same complaint. They were griping about friends who had done exactly as we had done — invited ourselves as houseguests.

When I read that column it was as if someone had turned on a light in my head. I sat right down and wrote another note to my chum saying we had changed plans and were staying in a motel. Your column made me realize how thoughtless and inconsiderate I had been. Thank you for waking me up—ANOTHER ANN

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My father lives with us. He is a very pleasant person but our ideas on rearing children are not the same. He does not interfere but he often offers suggestions with which I do not agree.

My father says that children learn best by experience and that I shouldn't shield our youngsters against life. Yesterday our four-year-old got hold of some sewing scissors. I've told him many times not to play with scissors but he managed to climb on a chair and help himself.

When I took the scissors away from him my father said I should have allowed him to cut himself a little, just once, and then he'd never play with scissors again. Do you agree?—SAL

DEAR SAL: "Cut himself a little," indeed! What if the child poked his eye out? Would the lesson learned first-hand be worth the eye?

Some things should be learned from experience but parents have the responsibility to protect their children against physical (and emotional) catastrophe when they can see it coming.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Red Official Defects

HONG KONG (AP)—The Communist cashier of the Tse Lung commune in Kwangtung Province was among 29 persons who fled from Red China to this British colony aboard a junk last week, the South China Morning Post said Tuesday. It quoted the fugitives as saying hunger and excessively hard labor prompted their flight.

Secrets Of Charm

Complaints And Comments On Women

I receive letters from men as well as women — from men who hope that this column will be read by women within their particular group. Here are a few:

"As an office manager, I'm constantly amazed by the number of women who think it's perfectly all right to sprawl over a desk. Most of them are really nice girls and their work is satisfactory — but they make an impression of careless, lazy untidiness that is decidedly against their own best interests. I can't find any way of letting them know about this unpleasant and unsatisfactory practice so far as management is concerned. If you can bring it to their attention, I'm sure it would be most helpful to those interested in advancement. In the meantime, believe me, when I find a girl who evidences an alert attitude, I not only hire her but raise her as fast as I can."

Next, here's a letter from a bachelor: "You'd be doing a lot for this world if you could just get across to the women how unattractive a female 'barger' is. Of course a man prefers a woman who looks as though she knows where she's going — but that's a lot different from a woman who looks as though she might knock everyone down to get there! The feminine femme displays some delicacy — and she's the kind the world needs!"

A newly married husband writes. "I think my wife has the greatest 'secret of charm' that there is. She creates a wonderfully comforting atmosphere wherever she is — no flitting about the room to pick a dead leaf off of ivy while I'm getting my day's gripe off my chest. No nervous twidgets, gurgles or giggles at any time!"

And from a man who wears the silver in his hair with pleasure: "Thank goodness, I was blessed with a wife who could always manage to present a sunny face. The man who is greeted with a warm smile at breakfast is always set for the day — and she's a gal who is sure to get the tenderest thoughts and consideration from any man. Is there any man who isn't left cold by stony, snooty looks?"

Man's ideal of a woman is a compliment always to her graceful and gracious ways!

The bat is the only mammal that can fly.

Ill Wind, Free Trip

NEW YORK (AP)—An ill wind brought Harold Kaiser a free luxury trip to Europe Tuesday. A Sandy Hook pilot, he was unable to leave the outbound liner United States when it passed Ambrose Lightship, because of high winds. As a result, he remained aboard for an 11-day trans-atlantic trip.

Capitol Comment

by Rep. Charles Mathias

The approval of the Manpower Development and Retraining Act last week by the House of Representatives is a major victory in increasing employment opportunities in all parts of our nation. The vigorous bipartisan support for this bill was due in large part to the success of the pilot retraining program approved in the Area Redevelopment Act last year. One of these programs has recently been approved for Garrett County, Maryland, where 56 persons will be trained for new industrial skills and the result is that a new industry has agreed to locate in Oakland, Maryland, to take advantage of the newly trained and skilled labor force.

Retraining is clearly a constructive approach to the problem of unemployment. This bill will assist individuals to develope their own potential and will return them to the productive stream of the American economy. It focuses our effort on the hard core of residual unemployment, rather than indiscriminately raising federal expenditures and government deficits in order to stimulate the economy. In addition to concentrating on the most crucial needs, the retraining approach is an investment with real returns in both human and economic terms. It gives people of the unemployment rolls a new hope, a chance to regain the confidence, dignity, and self-esteem that derives from the full employment of their individual talents and potential. In economic terms it means increased productivity and tax returns from productive workers instead of stagnation and the endless drain of welfare payments.

In the past, I have sought cooperation of federal agencies to increase employment in the depressed areas of my state. I have urged the Secretary of Labor not to overlook the pressing needs of western Maryland where the Cumberland labor market area has a current unemployment rate of 7.3 per cent — December 1961 — and Hagerstown 9.8 per cent — December 1961. I welcome this bill as an important step in easing the substantial and persistent unemployment in these and similar areas.

This two year program will help people in all occupational groups which have been hit by reduced employment opportunities. It is designed to help the factory worker, the miner, the white-collar worker and the small farmer and farmhand. In all, this legislation will help an estimated 410,000 people become better trained to take on new skills to replace old ones for which there is no longer a need because of technological improvements. The impact of these 410,000 people who will be helped by this bill will be of great benefit to the economic growth of the country to an extent that can hardly be estimated.

More Research Needed Before B70 Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — It may take another year or two of research to tell whether the United States should go into production of a reconnaissance-strike version of the 2,000 mile-an-hour B70 bomber, a Defense Department spokesman said Tuesday.

"The technology simply does not exist yet," the spokesman said.

The total effect of his remarks was to suggest that the Air Force, in its drive for more funds to develop the plane into a full weapons system, is rushing things.

He said work on highly complex radar and data processing equipment needed for reconnaissance work was in its infancy.

The spokesman's remarks promised to stoke the B70 dispute, already red hot. The Air Force is having no trouble getting congressional support for a bigger program than the Kennedy administration is willing to accept.

The administration is asking $1[illegible] million during the year starting July 1 for a limited plan that [illegible]ions building three stripped-down B70 prototype planes, the first to be flown by next December.

The House Armed Services Committee last week went along with the Air Force and approved legislation directing the administration to allocate $491 million to the project next year. The aim is to move faster toward fashioning the B70 into a full reconnaissance-strike weapons system.

Fine Suspended For Candidate

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Frank W. Vanderhoff, Republican candidate for congressional nomination from the 5th District, was given a suspended $10 fine Wednesday for failing to pay for a cup of coffee at a restaurant.

Trial Magistrate Robert S. Heise found Vanderhoof, a Bladensburg attorney, guilty of not paying a restaurant bill last Monday shortly after he filed for the Republican nomination.

Authorities had said Vanderhoof complained that M. L. Kokinos, owner of the restaurant, had failed to put enough cream in his coffee.

Vanderhoof helped himself to a 10-cent doughnut police said, then left the coffee untouched. He put 10 cents on the counter and left. Kokinos then called police and asked that a warrant be sworn out.

Vanderhoof had unsuccessfully sought the congressional seat in 1958 and 1960.

Three Celebrating Firefighters Killed

NAKANOJO, Japan (AP)—After participating in a fire drill, 16 firemen decided Wednesday to celebrate.

Three firemen were killed, three are missing, and the others suffered serious injuries.

U2 Crash Still Is Unsolved

Francis Gary Powers did the best he could. He is therefore entitled to back pay of more than $50,000, covering the period from May 1, 1960, when his U2 photographic plane crashed in Russia.

This is the finding of a special board of inquiry, created by President Kennedy at the CIA's request.

His plane must have been flying at about the 68,000 feet at which it was allegedly hit by a Soviet missile. He finished making a turn and was flying straight again, making notes as he flew. Suddenly he saw an orange-colored flash behind him and heard a hollow explosion.

His plane went into a spin. He tried to destroy it, as he was supposed to do, but failed to reach the "destruct" button because of the centrifugal motion. Not until he reached a level of 14,000 feet was he even able to operate the ejector mechanism and bail out of the falling plane.

From this it is concluded that the U2 was not actually struck by a Soviet missile, though it is quite possible that Russia has missiles which could hit a target at that height. But wreckage of the plane exhibited in Moscow showed no evidence that it had been hit.

The fact is that the experimental plane is quite capable of crashing without even being shot at. There have been nine U2 crashes in the United States, with five casualties.

These Days

Struggle For Education

Admiral H. G. Rickover not only builds atomic submarines but battles to bring American education up to the highest standards. The highest standards are measured not by degrees but by knowledge, and when a Ph.D. knows very little outside his field of discipline, he is no more an educated man than one who never went beyond high school.

Often this attribute is regarded as intellectual snobbishness, but it is nothing of the sort. It is a plain statement of fact and represents a criticism of the waste of time and money in the young years when one should be preparing for usefulness. It will surprise many parents to discover that their sons in the armed services have better opportunities for education than those who waste their time attempting to be big wheels on college campuses.

Admiral Rickover has already made significant studies of Russian schooling. His present volume deals with "Swiss Schools and Ours: Why Theirs Are Better." He says:

"Money and time invested in schooling buys less genuine education than in other advanced nations; less than it bought here before the life-adjusters took over."

Admiral Rickover's intellectual virtue is that he usually hits the bull's eye. Who is important in a school, from the kindergarten to graduate schools in the university? It is, of course, the teacher. If the teachers are not qualified, are not devoted, what can be expected of the pupils? Yet in this era, we have come somehow to disregard the teacher and to look up to the managers. Admiral Rickover says it this way:

"Because we have always been much more impressed with practical than with learned men, we habitually subordinate the latter to the former, even in enterprises devoted to learning. We elevate the housekeeping, office and personnel work that must be done in educational establishments above the work of the teacher. Though he alone gives purpose to the whole enterprise, we accord him a position subordinate to the school administrator who as often as not can lay no claim to scholarship, superior intelligence or higher education, and may not have had experience in classroom teaching. Ex-athletic coaches are often made school principals, on occasion even college presidents, incredible as this may seem."

The best equipped and able men and women leave the schools to find a better livelihood and to be more respected in private enterprise, in government positions, in jobs with foundations, or they devote themselves to the endless task of research and to the writing of repetitive books to pay for baby's shoes. Swiss schools have been famous and to them parents of many countries send their children. The work is hard; the hours are long; the school year is longer than ours; the results are better.

A study of the Swiss system explains why first the American high school diploma and then the B. A. degree have lost their standing. It also explains why the college life of Americans at present must run about seven years to accomplish little more than is achieved in most European universities in four or five. It also explains why so many Americans hold college degrees who have no basic education, no knowledge of literature, philosophy or history.

Admiral Rickover's book contains numerous examples of work done by students which perhaps explains why a small country like Switzerland, which is about the size of Maine, has managed to make its schools so important, but what amused me most is a comment of a Swiss teacher who visited model American schools and reached this conclusion:

"The children are charming and so poised; they speak with much greater ease than our youngsters who aren't voluble, you know, and who still fight to overcome shyness. We let them talk for the first five school years, just to get them used to expressing their opinion before the class. But by the sixth grade we tell them that they are now old enough to be expected to have something worth while to say; that they must get the facts and think through the issues before they express their opinions. These American seventeen-year-olds were talking on what we would consider fifth-grade level."

The teacher's battle to teach is eternal in the American school where everybody is entitled to an opinion even if he has had no time to study between watching TV and talking over the telephone.

'I Have A Hunch He's Hiding Something'

Alton Jones Was Taking Cash To Calif. GOP When Plane Crashed

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Chief subject of conversation in the nation's capital recently is what Alton Jones, head of Cities Service, was doing with $61,000 in cash and traveler's checks while en route to visit his old friend D. D. Eisenhower at Palm Springs, Calif.

No one really believes the alibi that Mr. Jones liked to have cash on hand to buy antiques. After all, Mr. Jones, as wealthy as he was likable, carried an airline credit card together with other ample means of credit and was able to sign checks for anything he wanted. He could have traveled all over the USA without five cents in his pocket.

Many people have wired or written me to remind that Mr. Jones was a contributor to the upkeep of the Eisenhower farm in Gettysburg. They point out that three men — George Allen, Billy Byars, the Texas oilman, and Alton Jones, the East Coast oilman — regularly made up the deficit for Ike's farm and that the last executive order signed by Eisenhower permitted Cities Service, hitherto without a residual oil import quota, to import residual oil at the rate of 3,000 barrels a day.

This is all true. But Jones always paid his share of the Gettysburg farm deficit by check, not cash, and I am quite sure he would not start making such payments in cash today.

On the other hand, a very hot political campaign is just beginning in California — the race for Governor. Richard M. Nixon is the No. 1 Republican challenger to unseat Gov. Pat Brown, Democrat, and upon this race depends Nixon's political future. If he wins, he is certain to run for President either in 1964 or 1968.

Cash contributions are frequent in campaigns of this kind, especially from big oil companies. Big oil not only sprinkles money lavishly in most vital campaigns, but representatives of Superior Oil even got caught trying to bribe honest Sen. Francis Case of South Dakota during the natural gas fight. Significantly no Senate committee was ever willing to make more than a kiss-off probe of this deplorable scandal.

You can be sure, therefore, that there will be no probe of who was to get the $61,000 which the genial, likable Alton Jones was carrying in his brief case. But you can also be sure that this generous amount of cash was to sweeten the campaign kitty of the California GOP.

Amaturish AAU

The American Athletic Union, which tries to wrap a cloak of pristine purity around amatuer athletes in the USA, is now trying to wrap the same cloak around European college athletes. In so doing, the AAU has put such a clammy hand on an important people-to-people friendship project that it may be ruined.

Some months ago, enegetic Abe Saperstein of the Harlem Globe-Trotters, who have done so much to build good will abroad, proposed a new good-will trip. Abe invited college basketball players from 10 European countries to make a three-week tour of the USA to play against the Globe-trotters.

The Federacion Internationale de Basketball Amateur (FIBA) was delighted to give its approval. It was agreed that the European college players would only get their traveling expenses plus pocket money of about $5 per day — which certainly was not a salary and couldn't impair their amateur standing. The famous French basketball coach, Robert Busnel, agreed to head up the European players, and it looked as if Saperstein had scored another tenstrike for better athletic understanding.

Then suddenly the AAU struck out its clammy, obsrtuctive hand. It ruled that the European basketeers could not play against the Harlem Globetrotters, a professional team, on U.S. soil without losing their amateur standing.

Just what the AAU has to do with the amateur standing of European athletes is yet to be explained. And when this writer asked that question of James F. Sims of the AAU in New York, Mr. Sims had no adequate answer. But he didn't remove his objection to this people-to-people athletic program.

Planning Auto Pools

Newest and most beautiful government building is that erected for Central Intelligence on the banks of the Potomac.

It sits on the old Joe Leiter summer estate developed by the Chicago grain king who once cornered the grain market, and looks down on a picturesque gorge of the Potomac. Nothing has been forgotten in the construction of this elite "spy center" whose officials had charge of the U-2 flight over Russia, the abortive invasion of Cuba, and which masterminds American intelligence and espionage around the world. Allen Dulles himself had a hand in the planning.

Even the park lots are beautiful. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have gone into planting trees at appropriate distances in the parking area.

But one thing is missing—enough parking space. CIA planners estimated that their building would need about the same amount of parking space as an ordinary government building. What they forgot was that the CIA is located 15 miles up river from the center of town. Therefore everyone has to drive. Once they arrive, however, there is no place to park.

As a result, most bureaucrats have to bring their own staffs. Every morning they have to round up secretaries, stenographers, administrative assistants, pile them in a car and drive them to work. Then at the end of the day the bureau chief has to taxi them back home.

No wonder the CIA hasn't had time for any more invasions of Cuba. Even Khrushchev can be fairly safe about any more U-2 flights over Russia. The planners at CIA are just too busy planning auto pools.

Just how amateurish can you get?

President Confuses The Public About A-Tests

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — After hearing President Kennedy's eloquent and forceful address the other night about resuming nuclear tests, it seems as if someone might readily write a play entitled, "How to Confuse the Public Without Really Trying."

There is no issue emanating from Government nowadays which is beset with so much confusion, contradiction and mystery as surrounds the argument over nuclear testing.

The New York "Times" said editorially this week that Mr. Kennedy's "Stature as a forceful national leader will be determined less by the literary quality of his pronouncements than by his success in rallying the country behind his goals."

When the President finished his television address on nuclear testing, almost everyone agreed with the plausibility of the argument. But there was so much left unsaid and unexplained that one wonders how long it will be before the public will demand a greater sense of responsibility to the nation than the administration has shown thus far on the issue of nuclear testing.

For one thing, the President didn't explain why, when the Soviets resumed testing on September 1 last, he didn't immediately authorize resumptions of tests by the United States — both in the atmosphere and underground — without waiting six months. Why, for instance, was it necessary to spend six months examining the question or preparing for such tests? Is it conceivable that in a nuclear age the United States government wasn't prepared for a prompt resumption of tests when it found out that the Soviets were cheating? How much confidence can there be that a similar delay in "studying" the issue may not eventuate if a nuclear attack actually occurs?

How can the American people accept Mr. Kennedy's proposals to trust the Soviets again if they sign an agreement on testing before April 1? This is the date the President held out as bait to obtain another moratorium on testing.

The sequence of paragraphs is worth examining. First, the President openly accused the Soviets of violating their pledges when he said:

"On September First of last year, while the United States and the United Kingdom were negotiating in good faith at Geneva, the Soviet Union callously broke its moratorium with a two-month series of more than 40 nuclear tests. Preparations for these tests had been secretly under way for many months."

Then, in the latter part of the address, Mr. Kennedy nevertheless told the American people he was willing to take another chance on a written pledge by the Soviets, as he declared:

"If the Soviet Union should now be willing to accept such a treaty, sign it before the latter part of April, and apply it immediately—if all testing can thus be actually halted — then the nuclear arms race would be slowed down at last, the security of the United States and its ability to meet its commitments would be safeguarded, and there would be no need for our tests to begin."

Earlier in the same speech, Mr. Kennedy had stressed the importance of testing and of learning as much as, if not more than, the Soviets have learned by their recent tests. He said frankly that a further Soviet series of tests in the absence of Western tests "could well provide the Soviet Union with a nuclear attack and defense capability so powerful as to encourage aggressive designs." Mr. Kennedy then added:

"Were we to stand still while the Soviets surpassed us—or even appeared to surpass us—the free world's ability to deter, to survive and to respond to an all-out attack would be seriously weakened.

But, in spite of this, the President now wants to accept the written word of the Soviets and run the risk of further delays in America's testing.

Even more surprising perhaps was the President's carefully worded statement that "the exposure due to radioactivity from these (American) tests will be less than one-fiftieth of the difference which can be experienced, due to variations in natural radioactivity, simply by living in different locations in this country."

Yet millions of well-meaning, sincere and patriotic persons in this and other Western countries have been persuaded in the last five years by Soviet and pacifist propaganda and by misguided pronouncements of various scientists that atmospheric testing is a terrible danger to mankind. Why hasn't our government—under this and the preceding administrations—debunked the idea before? Mr. Kennedy's address didn't clear up this phase of the confusion, either.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Just how stupid do many of the syndicated columnists think your readers are?

David Lawrence in his column of DOOM, March 6, 1962, paragraph 4, states:

"Business men . . . face featherbedding and union restrictions. They are confronted with demands for a shorter and shorter work week at the same total pay."

Several fallacies in his presentation and interpretation of the above, but that is not my reason for this note. He continues on with paragraph 9:

"Practically nothing, for example, has been done to encourage the creation of jobs for the millions of youngsters coming out of school every year."

This is not fence straddling. Apparently this writer can do the impossible, be both for and against an issue simultaneously.

There are too many vital issues that we need good, solid, TRUTHFUL information about, for these men to waste their time and ours stringing together a column of frothy, inconsequential words.

To see clearly, one doesn't stick one's head in a tub of soap suds.

Credit Union Indians

By John Crosby

LIMA, Peru

"We are always making friends with governments," said Father Dan McClellan, who is what I like to think of as a Good Type priest as opposed to the Spanish or Bad Type priest. "We have made friends with lots of governments, including some good ones. But when the governments fall, where are we? We don't make friends with people."

Father McClellan is the priest who started the Credit Union six years ago in Puno, Peru, an Indian community 14,000 feet up in the Andes. The Credit Union was an effort, and a very successful one to take the Indians' money out of the mattress where they usually hide it and put it to use. In Peru, legal interest rates run as high as 50 per cent, so the poor Indian can't borrow money without putting himself into perpetual bondage to the oligarchy which owns Peru.

The only way he can get money is to hoard it. Father McClellan's Credit Union got the Indians' money out of the mattresses and into their own Credit Union which now has 275 branches around Peru and $3,500,000 of its own money, all of it belonging to the Indians. Recently the Credit Union got a million dollar loan from the Alliance for Progress. The Indian now has a place where at moderate (by Peruvian standards) credit rates he can borrow money to buy a llama or some seed and fertilizer.

What is even more important is that Father McClellan's Credit Union is making friends directly with the people. Most of the people working in his credit union are Indians who by the medieval structure of Peruvian society would be doomed to clerkhood forever more because they weren't born into the ruling class. Several of them Father McClellan considers financial wizards—"And if thy're lucky they'll make ten dollars more a month in ten years."

The priest is the mortal foe of government-to-government loans, which is our usual practice. Bureaucratic waste eats up something like 80 per cent of these loans before they funnel down to the levels where the money is supposed to go to work. Even if government-to-government loans were made with the utmost efficiency, they generate no great warmth for us, the lenders or the donor, from them the beneficiaries. Most South American people — and this is especially true of the Indians in Peru — feel their government is their enemy, not their friend. Would you feel particularly friendly toward someone who has loaned your foe some money?

I feel most strongly that American efforts should increasingly lean towards projects like Father McClellan's or the Cornell Vicos project or the Peace Corps which deal directly with the people — and less and less with efforts funnelled through foreign governments which steal our money and earn us nothing but the enmity of the people. If this is internal interference — and, of course, it is — then so be it. There is no conceivable way you can lend another country money without interfering internally anyhow and I feel most strongly that the United States cannot morally afford any longer to support crooked governments like Batista's in Cuba or Chiang Kai Shek's on Formosa.

"We just gave $9,000,000 to the Peruvian government to study agrarian reform," said Father McClellan cynically. "Hell—if you'll pardon the expression — we haven't got time to study reform any more. The time for action is now. They hire a bunch of lawyers to do the study and there goes the money. The Indian has been fooled so often he's not going to open his yap until he thinks you're really his friend. The Indian knows we're truly his friend now.

"There are now 75,000 Indians who have their money in the Credit Union. Multiply that by five for the average Indian family and you'll see how many friends we've made. We started with $30; now we have $3,500,000. The Peruvians warned me not to trust the Indians. They said the Indians would never pay. Why, we have a better payment record than credit unions in the United States."

Coughing Protects The Respiratory Tract

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Coughing may be good or bad and when it is good there is no sense in using cough medicine. It is a protective reflex that keeps the respiratory tract free of accumulated secretions, dust, and other minute particles. The usual stimulation comes from infection or from chemical or mechanical irritation of the lining membrane.

Identifying and removing the cause of coughing is more logical than suppressing it. The remedy may be simple, such as the cessation of smoking. Air pollution also is a culprit but is more difficult to avoid, especially in large cities.

Others are benefited by adding moisture to the air in the office or apartment via a humidifier. Steam heat is a notorious offender along this line. Victims of chronic bronchitis must experiment with the temperature of the room as well as the humidity. Many cough less when the bedroom is warmer.

Those who cough up large amount of sputum may be able to sleep longer if, before turning in for the night, they lie for a few minutes with the head and chest lower than the rest of the body. The purulent sputum escapes more easily when the forces of gravity are added to those of coughing. Drugs that dilute the bronchi and liquefy the sputum also help to bring up the purulent material. The antibiotics are used from time to time to eliminate infection.

Coughing is desirable in these cases and should not be inhibited unless it is excessive, interferes with sleep, or adds to the irritation.

There are many excellent cough mixtures but the essential ingredient must be a drug that suppresses cough. Codeine is the old reliable but never synthetic nonnarcotic products are available. Tablets and lozenges that moisten or anesthetize the back of the throat also help deaden the cough reflex.

SCALP CYST

G. P. writes: I have had a sebaceous cyst on my scalp for years. It became abscessed and the doctor opened and drained it. Now it has grown back again. Is there no cure for this nuisance?

REPLY

Yes — surgery. It is a simple operation that is done under a local anesthetic. Hospitalization is not necessary and the only disagreeable feature is the wearing of a bandage for a week or 10 days. The operation should be done after the infection subsides.

ANNUAL CHECKUPS

Mrs. V. writes: How often do men and women need checkups?

REPLY

Annually, after age 50, and preferably during the birth month because this occasion serves as a good reminder. The examination need not be made so often in younger persons. Every two to six years is often enough, depending upon the physical condition and type of work. Many women consult a gynecologist every year from age 35 on.

CYST PAIN

J. B. writes: Will heat relieve the pain of pilonidal cyst?

REPLY

Pain is relieved temporarily by lancing the infected cyst, to allow pus to escape. Permanent relief is obtained by complete removal, preferably after the infection has subsided.

TONGUE CRAMPS

J. K. writes: From time to time I get pain of the tongue muscles which feels like cramping. Have you ever heard of anything like this?

REPLY

Yes. Cramping can occur in any muscle, including those of the tongue.

ADENOIDAL BREATHING

R. C. writes: If enlarged adenoids disappear in time, will mouth breathing correct itself?

REPLY

Yes, provided the adenoids are responsible for mouth breathing.

MARRIAGE OF DIEBETICS

H. E. K. writes: Are two diabetics allowed to marry?

REPLY

Yes. There are no religious or legal reasons why they cannot. From the genetic standpoint, it may be inadvisable because all of their children will develop diabetes.

AGGRESSIVE AND AGITATED

J. F. writes: A 55 year old man with a duodenal ulcer drinks ale, beer, rum, and gin. He is the domineering type and always agitated. Can drinking affect his mind?

REPLY

Yes, and also his ulcer.

EFFECT OF HEPATITIS

R. G. writes: Could the effects of an attack of hepatitis last 1½ years? I haven't felt well since I had the disease.

REPLY

This is unlikely, especially if the liver tests are normal.

TOMORROW: Mother's temperature taking.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

What the wife of a practical joker has to put up with:

Mrs. Cousins took quite a while to answer a phone call from her husband, then explained, "You got me out of the tub. I'm dripping wet."

Cousins hung up, then had a business associate redial the number a minute later. Mrs. Cousins, who barely had had time to climb gack into the tub, answered with an annoyed, "Who's calling now?"

"It's Jack," announced the associate. "Is Norman—Say, look at you, and soaking wet, too!"

There was a scream from the other end of the line, and a loud click.

Nine-year-old Peter came home from dancing school to announce that every girl in the class was a clumsy cow. "All they can do," he explained with disgust, "is dance backwards."

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

A Clevelander has developed a kitchen faucet that dispenses whisky or gin as well as water. That puts the drinks inside as well as on the house!

To set a new world record, Ohio University students gabbed in relays, over the phone for more than 400 hours. Guess that should have given everyone his say-so!

The man at the next desk says he knows a fellow who worked his way down to success. Seems he went into the old-building wrecking business.

Food Shopping Guide

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For Lenten menus, look to food stores this weekend for plentiful supplies of all meal-makers.

Supplies in great supply:

Meat counters will be featuring lamb for the weekend, with just about every cut included for the "specials." Beef will also be well in the forefront, especially roasts, ground meat, and all the variey meats. In poultry, look for good buys in turkeys and broiler-fryers.

With the Lenten season getting under way, dairy products and eggs will be coming in for considerable interest. Both are now seasonally abundant, with attractive features at many markets.

In the vegetable department, look for top values in corn, dandelion, endive and escarole, kale, green onions, parsley, radishes, rhubarb, and spinach.

Also of good value will be beans, beets, carrots, cauliflower, broccoli, Florida celery, leafy greens of all kinds, peppers, sweet potatoes.

In fruits, best buys will be the regular storage apples, Florida oranges, grapefruit, honeydews, and avocados.

For weekend fish features try fillets, clams, oysters, halibut, and smelt.

MINTY

NEW YORK (UPI) —Create a cool tasting dessert with green mint ice cream and canned apple sauce. Blend 2 cups of sauce into 1 pint of the softened, but not melted, ice cream.

HEALTHY BREAK

NEW YORK (UPI) —Tall glasses of chilled apple juice combine with scoops of vanilla ice cream to become sodas. Serve with crisp cookies.

Salad Ring Burgundy

(Serves 8)

1 (1-lb.) can red sour pitted cherries
1 cup California Burgundy or other red dinner wine
2 packages lemon-flavored gelatine
Dash of salt
¾ cup thinly sliced celery
½ cup chopped pecans

Drain cherries, reserving syrup. Combine syrup and wine; measure and add sufficient water to make 3½ cups liquid. Heat this liquid to simmering; add gelatin and stir until dissolved; add salt. Cool, then chill. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in cherries, celery and nuts. Pour into an oiled 1¼-quart ring mold; chill until firm. Unmold on crisp salad greens and serve with mayonnaise or a fruit salad dressing. Cream cheese balls rolled in chopped pecans go nicely in the center of this ring.

LITTLE WOMAN

"Oh, I'm just looking—Herbert's lifted my charge plate till after the first of the month."

"I don't know what you're so proud of—you outweighed him by 200 pounds!"

Fudge 'N Caramel Rolls

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3½ tablespoons water
1 package Chocolate Quick Fudge Mix
25 (7 ounces) light caramels
3 tablespoons water
2 cups finely chopped pecans

Butter 6-inch square pan or plate; set aside. Use double boiler; keep water boiling in bottom part. In top part place butter; add water. After butter melts add entire contents of fudge mix package. Stir over boiling water 3 to 4 minutes . . . until glossy. Pour at once into pan or onto plate; cool. Meanwhile in top of double boiler place caramels and water. Heat, stirring occasionally, until caramels melt. When fudge is almost cool cut into 8 rectangles; shape into long rools. Using 2 spoons dip fudge in caramel mixture to coat thoroughly; roll in chopped pecans. Place on waxed paper and chill; slice into rounds.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Avoid hair snarls by brushing gently immediately after shampooing. Following with a wide-toothed comb, working through the top hair first, then down through the ends, section by section.

Warm and fragrant dessert: Place canned apple slices in baking dish. Sprinkle thickly with chopped walnuts and brown sugar; dot with butter, a few drops of lemon juice and dust with nutmet. Bake 15 minutes in moderate oven, 350 degrees. Serve warm, with cream.

The trunkfish cleans its food before eating.

Cream Pie With Cherry Glaze Always A Favorite

It is fortunate in a way that George Washington cut down the cherry tree, since it gives us a good excuse to feature cherries in February, the month of this great president's birthday. Actually an excuse is hardly needed since cherries are a popular fruit the year round.

Cherry pie seems to rank high on the list of favorite pies. The first type of cherry pie that comes to most homemakers minds is the two crust variety packed full of plump red, slightly tart cherries. Not to be overlooked, however, is Cherry Cream Pie with its creamy vanilla filling and sparkling red cherry glaze on top. The filling can be made in a jiffy from a package pudding or pie filling or you can use your favorite vanilla cream pie or pudding recipe. Whichever recipe used there is plenty of nourishing good milk included which makes a "good for you" as well as good-to-eat dessert. Ideal for an evening dessert refreshment for friends who attend your monthly bridge group. Serve topped with slightly sweetened whipped cream and you will have a dessert to rave about.

Cherry Cream Pie

1 baked 9-inch pie shell
1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
Milk (see package directions for amount)
¾ cup sugar
¼ cup cornstarch
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 No. 2 can red, sour pitted cherries
Red food coloring
Slightly sweetened whipped cream

Bake pie shell with an upstanding crimped edge and allow to cool. Prepare vanilla pudding and pie filling mix according to package directions and pour into the pie shell. Chill. Blend dry ingredients for the topping and stir in ¾ cup of juice drained from the cherries, adding cold water to the juice to make ¾ cup, if necessary. Cook until thick and clear, stirring constantly. Add food coloring to heighten color and the well drained cherries. Cool, and spread over vanilla cream layer. Chill. Top with slightly sweetened whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

Soup's On! Pot-Roast Special

Pot-roast recipes may vary from those with the simplest seasonings to those which include all the vegetables for the menu. One thing they share is the wonderful meat flavor so satisfying to hearty appetites. It's easy shopping for pot-roasts too with the wide variety found in most markets. Arm bone, blade bone, rolled rump, heel of round, to name a few, are all cuts at home in company with the ingredients for a pot-roast.

Soups, dried or canned, are a quick and easy way to vary flavor and dehydrated onion soup is the choice for an onion pot-roast that cooks with carrots and celery. The pot-roast is first dredged or coated with flour, then browned in a small amount of lard or drippings. Other ingredients are added and the most important rule is to cook the pot-roast, covered, with a small amount of liquid to bring out its tender juciness

Onion Pot-Roast

3 to 4-pound beef arm or blade pot-roast
3 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
½ teaspoon salt
1 package (1¼ ounces) dehydrated onion soup
1 cup water
8 medium carrots
3 stalks celery

Dredge meat in flour. Brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Combine salt, onion soup and water and add to potroast. Cover tightly and simmer 2 hours. Cut each carrot into 3 pieces and celery into 1-inch pieces. Add to meat and continue cooking for 45 minutes, or until meat is done and vegetables are tender. 6 to 8 servings.

Valley TV Continues Operation

$2,000 Remains On Obligation

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — The Valley TV Cooperative will continue operation of the translator service on Channel 6 and Channel 9 for the Valley, according to an announcement of the board of directors last Wednesday night.

Wendell Hester, president of the Valley TV Cooperative, reported 33 new members were added during the three-week trial period of a membership drive. Hester reported that $1,450 has been paid on the note due at the bank and only $2,000 remains to be paid on the $16,000 installation. A canvass of the 40 odd members present at the meeting showed that an additional 23 prospective members would sign up within the next week or so. The cooperative has several hundred feet of coaxial cable to sell which should reduce the debt an additional $600 or $700. The prospect of securing enough members within the next 60 days to pay off the entire indebtedness decided the board to continue operations.

The board of directors also announced that additional funds received for memberships would be allocated towards the installation of a third channel as soon as the current indebtedness is liquidated. It is felt that the broadcast service from the three major networks would give the residents of the Valley complete service.

Meeting Postponed

FROSTBURG — The Loyalty Bible Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will meet March 12 at the home of Mrs. James Close, West Main Street, instead of today as previously announced, due to the weather.

Senate Cloakroom

by Sen. J. Glenn Beall

Tax accountants figure that nearly one third of the average American family's income goes for taxes. Yes, the average salaried person or wage earner works about one day in three to support government. Taking a work day of eight hours, the accountants figure that you work 2 hours and 29 minutes of each day to pay your taxes, direct and hidden. Here is the number of hours and/or minutes you work each day to pay for each item of expenditure:

2:29 Taxes
1:25 Home mortgage payment or rent
:24 Medical care
:20 Recreation
42 Transportation
1:39 Food
:37 Clothing
:24 All other purchases plus insurance and charity

8: Total number of hours in a work day

When you note how much of your work day you must work for taxes, do you not see how directly and how vitally you are affected by excessive government spending? Increased government spending inevitably means higher taxes. When someone favors new government spending — for whatever purpose — are we not justified in asking which of the other items of family expenditure would be cut down on in order to meet the increase in taxes?

The success of the project to put a man into orbit around the earth has brought new and exciting forecasts for the year 1962. Administrator James E. Webb, head of the Space Agency (which, in this day and age of compact cars and instant coffee and people in too big a hurry to spell out things, is referred to simply as NASA), forecasts that we will make interplanetary probes near Venus this year. Other forecasts he makes for our space program for 1962: Two 18-orbit missions during which astronauts will remain 27 hours in space; a "hard landing" of the "Ranger" rocket on the Moon; the orbiting of a solar observatory to measure for many months the ultraviolet, gamma and X-ray emissions above the earth's atmosphere; the launching of advanced "Tiros" weather satellites designed to provide information every six hours from every earthly point; and the launching of advanced "Echo" communications satellites and the privately financed "Telestar" communications satellite.

The space program, inaugurated by President Eisenhower and continued by President Kennedy, rocket ahead! Astronaut Glenn said in his address to a joint session of Congress last week: "We are on the brink of an area of expansion of knowledge about ourselves and our surroundings that is beyond description or comprehension at this time."

Our Government will be in the awkward position of riding two horses, come next month. On one hand, we will be aparticipating in a disarmament conference. On the other hand, we will be launching a series of nuclear-weapon tests, for further strengthening our nuclear armaments. There is justification for this policy: we do not want to shut the door on any possible disarmament agreement, slight as the chance might be, but, at the same time, until a real start toward inspected arms control is begun, this country must keep its nuclear arsenal as modern as that possessed by Moscow. The weapon testing will include that of a new H-bomb trigger, the warhead testing of the Polaris missiles, the long-delayed atmospheric testing of the anti-missile Nike-Zeus, the checking on the radar-blackout possibilities of blasts in the atmosphere, and demonstrations of the effect of megaton-size bombs on "hardened missile sites.

Although admitting that there is no such thing as a one-weapon defense, Vice Admiral Raborn says that the Polaris, the nuclear-powered submarine armed with 16 nuclear missiles, is the most perfect weapon man has ever created. Being able to roam the seas at will and avoid detection, it gives the United States a formidable retaliatory capacity against any sneak attack.

Advocates of the Nike-Zeus anti-missile say that even if it is only 50 per cent successful, it could be the most powerful weapon in our arsenal.

Brigadier General Phillips insists that the solid-fuel Minuteman rocket is our most praiseworthy weapon.

Then, Air Force Secretary Zuckert tells our Senate Committee on Armed Services that the 2,000-mile-an-hour B-70, which he hopes to test this year, could revolutionize aviation—in fact, "would be the next generation of flying machines."

Congressional Viewpoint

by Sen. John M. Butler

While I do not believe that there is a conscious conspiracy operating against the Free State of Maryland within the Kennedy Administration, a consistent and disturbing pattern of events during the past few months has persuaded me to conclude that so far as the New Frontier is concerned, Maryland is a "forgotten" state.

Let me list a few recent rejections, denials and diversions by the government:

—The Federal Aviation Agency has strongly implied that it intends to divert traffic from Friendship International Airport to the federally-financed, federally-run Dulles Airport at Chantilly, Virginia.

—Defense Secretary McNamara personally canceled an Air Force contract for five F-27 airplanes built at the Fairchild plant in Hagerstown.

—Government defense contract work has been diverted from the Martin-Marietta Company in Baltimore with resulting unemployment in the state's biggest city.

—Commerce Secretary Hodges rejected an application of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation for a construction subsidy differential to build two ore carriers at Sparrows Point.

—Government contracts for ship repairs have been directed to California and West Coast shipyards rather than yards in Baltimore and other East Coast ports.

Although corrective action has been initiated in relation to these economic setbacks, either by State officials or members of the Maryland delegation in the U. S. Congress, one question persists: why has Maryland been singled out for such cavalier treatment when its past record of superior performance and capability is so well-known? And why does the Executive Branch ignore or overrule so consistently the recommendations of the Legislative Branch? The Congress approved the F-27 contract, it has supported construction subsidies for 26 years, it enacted the freight differential rate, and this Senator, at least, fought the concept of a federal airport at Chantilly.

One single answer comes to mind for both of these questions: the Administration is clearly too eager to gather more and more power to itself in disregard of other branches of the Federal government and, ultimately, in disregard of the people. The only remedy to this centralism is a more aggressive and ever alert Congress which will render unto the Executive only those rights and responsibilities which properly belong to it and nothing more.

U.S. Hockey Team To Face Norway Today

World Amateur Matches Begin

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — "We expect to win that first game, but it's going to be a crucial one for us," John (Connie) Pleban, coach of the U.S. national ice hockey team, said Wednesday.

The American team, picked to battle the Canadians and Swedes for the world amateur title, plays its first game against Norway in the eight-team championship bracket Thursday night. Game time at the Broadmoor World Arena is 10:15 p.m. EST.

Any doubts that the 11-day competition would be officially recognized as world championships were removed Wednesday when Robert Lebel of Montreal, president of the International Ice Hockey Federation, repulsed a Russian attempt to remove the championship label. The Communist countries withdrew from the tournament when the Allied travel bureau in West Berlin refused to grant travel permits to the East German team.

Meanwhile, Pleban, from Duluth, Minn., had his problems.

"I won't decide until a few hours before game time who will be our goalie," he said. "We only played two exhibition games and that wasn't enough to get a good line on the team. I'll know more after we play Norway."

The Americans are carrying two goaltenders, Mike Larson of the University of Minnesota and Jim Hogue of Malden, Mass. Neither has experience in world championship competition.

Locke Miffs Cub Coaches

Walks Off Mound During Squad Tilt

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—The serenity of the Chicago Cubs' managerless camp was ruffled Wednesday in the wake of an incident involving pitcher Bobby Locke, who walked off the mound without notice in an intrasquad game.

Locke, acquired from Cleveland where he had a 4-4 relief record last season, said he had arm trouble and yanked himself Tuesday because he didn't know which of the array of Cub coaches to notify.

Head Coach Elvin Tappe was absent, attending a civic luncheon in Phoenix. However, the three Cub pitching coaches reportedly were miffed.

One of the coaches, who asked not to be identified, said, "If he was my property, he'd be on his way to the minors."

Locke marched into the dressing room, where he told trainer Al Scheuneman, "My arm tightened up and I didn't want to risk hurting it."

Locke said he did not expect to be disciplined. Tappe, who said the walkoff might not have occurred if he had been present, suggested "this is all a misunderstanding."

The 28-year-old right-hander, right after his self-benching, said: "I'm the only pitcher around here smart enough to do what I did. I know this weather here in the spring and you can't afford to take any chances."

Tappe said Locke Thursday would follow his regular training schedule.

Athletics' Charlie Shoemaker Is Smart, Hustling 2nd Sacker

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — After his many years as an infielder in baseball, Granny Hamner should stand as a good judge of good rookie material. And his appraisal of Charlie Shoemaker, a skinny 21-year-old second baseman with the Kansas City Athletics, is loaded with rose-colored perspective.

"I had him at Portsmouth last year," said Granny in camp here, "and while he wasn't as strong as the other boys because he hadn't played every day, he did everything right. He made all the plays and did very well on the double-play ball. He's smart, a hustler and a scrapper and he should have a great future.

General manager Pat Friday of the A's was asked to name the best prospect in camp. He named Charlie—right off. Manager Hank Bauer added that Charlie "did an adequate job for us in the few games he played last year."

Charlie has played pro baseball only since last June when he was signed by Art Lilly for the Athletics for a $20,000 bonus off the campus of the University of Arizona. Charlie was the second baseman on the Arizona team for three years, hitting .375.

Born in Los Angeles, Charlie was a basketball and baseball standout at Montebello High and went to Arizona on a baseball scholarship. Six or seven clubs sought him but the A's offered the most.

He was sent to Portsmouth where he hit .271 in 82 games and then finished the season with the A's, batting .385 for seven games. He's not a power hitter but did hit a grand slam home run for his first homer in pro ball.

Charlie earned the nickname of "Coyote" when in high school because he was so thin. He weighs in at 158 pounds right now.

Lincoln Downs Cuts Distances To Complete Card

LINCOLN, R.I. (AP) — Lincoln Downs squeezed in an eight-race card Wednesday after the ice-plagued horse track cut the distances down to dog track length.

Three horses and jockeys took spills in a single accident in the opening race, though nobody was hurt. Officials decided to cancel the second race and run the next seven over a distance of three-sixteenths of a mile on the straightaway, thus avoiding the icy turns.

The jockeys agreed and despite a spill in the first abbreviated race the card was completed.

When the second race was canceled, the management paid winners of the first race a "consolation daily double" of $31.80.

Officials said another attempt will be made Thursday to run the nine scheduled races at the regulation 10-16ths distance.

Oakland Made AFL Rivalry

Chargers Head Is Suit Witness

BALTIMORE (AP)—The American Football League decided to fill out its eight-team circuit with Oakland to create a rivalry on the West Coast with the Los Angeles Chargers, Barron Hilton testified Wednesday.

Hilton, son of hotel magnate Conrad Hilton, is the president of the San Dieg(Chargers, which he shifted from Los Angeles after the AFL was under way. He was called to testify for the AFL in its $10-million antitrust suit against the National Football League.

The Oakland franchise was added to the new league at an AFL meeting in Dallas in January 1960, he said. The spot for an eighth team in the league became open with the withdrawal of the AFL franchise in Minneapolis.

Hilton said two locations were considered for the eighth franchise—Oakland and Atlanta.

"The majority of (AFL) owners preferred Atlanta," he said. "But I maintained the Chargers needed a rivalry with another West Coast team to stimulate their own development."

Lack of Power, Pitching Could Hamper Kansas City In Athletics' Drive to Avoid American League Cellar

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams. Others will follow on this page daily.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — Always a well-conditioned athlete himself and still sharp after 20 years in baseball, Hank Bauer will field a well-conditioned team of Kansas City Athletics come opening day although the prospects for getting out of the depths of the cellar are questionable.

Hank kept a sharp eye during the winter pheasant hunting in South Dakota and he's keeping a sharp eye on a full house of hopeful Athletics here in the second year of a rebuilding program.

There are no big stars on this team, not even one — unless you could put shortstop Dick Howser, the rookie ace last year, in that category.

Hank Has Problems

Hank has problems all over the place, particularly in the outfield, has little power, could have better pitching than he had last season and does have an infield which hit an average of .286 last year, the best in the majors.

"I didn't have the slightest idea about managing when I was named last June 19," explained the very affable ex-Yankee in camp here. "But now I can work the way I want to and I'll guarantee you that these boys will be ready to play when the season opens. I'm accenting running and I feel that if we're in good shape we can win some ball games in April and May."

"WE'RE looking toward the future," continued Hank. "We have a lot of young ball players here and with the exception of my infield and catcher Haywood Sullivan, the positions are wide open. Last year we used about 10 first-year men and we're going to build that way."

Hank admits that the club is looking for help via the trade market and that they're looking for a hight-handed power hitter, but nothing shows at the moment.

"My pitching fell down last year," said Hank, "and my outfield was weak. We have some power in Norm Siebern and Gino Cimoli but if we don't get any more we'll try to overcome this deficit with speed and we have some fast boys on this club."

Hank has a flock of pitchers available but he says he's "just looking." Going over them he said:

"Art Ditmar (0-5 last year) is a better pitcher than he has shown. Dan Pfister, who came up late after being at Shreveport, has the best curve in camp. Gerry Walker has got to be better (8-14) than he was last year. Jim Archer had a good year but the record doesn't show it."

Others on the front-line slab corps include Norman Bass, Bill Kunkel, Ed Rakow and Dave Wickersham.

We asked Hank about that $125,000 beauty, pitcher Lew Krausse, who started off sensationally last year and then finished with a 2-5 mark.

"He's got to pitch himself out of it," said Hank. "He needs work and if he doesn't do it here he'll have to get it elsewhere."

Joe Azcue Impresses

Backing up Sullivan as the catcher may be Joe Azcue, up from Vancouver where he hit .297. Hank says Azcue has "impressed me" to date.

The infield has Norm Siebern at first, Howser at short, Jerry Lumpe at second and Wayne Causey at third. One of the best-looking future prospects is the bonus kid signed off the University of Arizona campus last year, Charlie Shoemaker. Another possibility for the infield is Ed Charles, who hit .305 for Vancouver.

Gene Stephens, one of the outfielders, underwent an operation for removal of a cartilage from his knee during the winter and he should have a better year. Cimoli, who was with Milwaukee, and Bobby Del Greco, who finished with KC last year, are other outfielders. Best-looking of the newcomers are Jose Tartabull, up from Victoria, and Manny Jiminez, who hit .325 for the Vancouver club.

NEXT — Washington Senators.

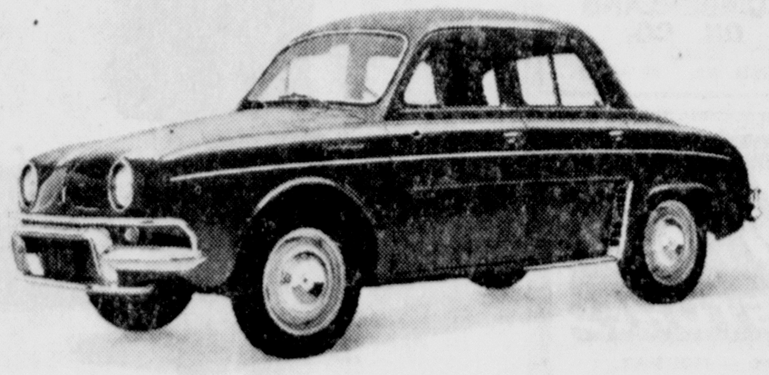
$1395*



(So what else is new?)

Plenty. Not only is the Dauphine about $200 cheaper than it was a year ago; it's an even better car. To cite one improvement: a synchronized low gear lets you shift back into low without stopping, skip through traffic on the run.

Some other nice, new touches in the '62 Dauphine: Exteriors are dip-painted to get a protective coating into unreachable joints and crevices. The engine now runs even quieter because we've improved the piston design.

Or look at our 1962 Dauphine Deluxe. It's got all-new, all-vinyl interiors and more comfortable foam rubber seats. (You can call the front seats "bucket" if you like; they look just like what other people are calling bucket seats. The backs are adjustable to four positions.) Fancy new steering wheel, too.

But how are you going to improve things like: up to 40 mpg. gas economy, 4 doors for easy in and out, fancy Paris styling, a big 7 cu. ft. trunk. All this with a 12-month or 12,000 mile warranty. So you wonder, how can we make a car that's so good, and still sell it for $1395? That's for us to know and you to find out... soon, we hope. Come in today and drive your new Dauphine away.

'62 RENAULT

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Ada Whitney, who passed away one year ago today, March 8, 1961.
Your suffering here has ended
You could no longer stay
Only God knows how we miss you
Since you have gone away.
Sadly missed by
THE FAMILY

In memory of our beloved son and brother, Thomas Ward White, who died 3 years ago today, March 8, 1959.
Just when his days seemed brightest,
Just when his hopes seemed best,
God called him from amongst us
To his eternal rest.
Sadly missed, but God knows best.
FATHER, SISTERS, BROTHERS & RELATIVES

In loving memory of my dear husband, William G. Powell, who passed away 7 years ago today, March 8, 1955.
A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is still,
A place is vacant in our hearts
Which never can be filled.
Sadly missed by
WIFE, DAUGHTER AND SONS

Third Of County

and then was appointed last year to fill the vacancy when William A. Wilson resigned to become a judge of the Maryland Tax Court. Mr. Shinnamon's name is the only one reappearing from 1958 on the Republican slate of 10 for county commissioners.

Harry E. Shobe, city, another Republican candidate for county commissioner, was an unsuccessful GOP aspirant in 1958 for the State Central Committee.

All three judges of Allegany County Orphans Court, seek new four-year terms. Hugh Stevenson of Ellerslie and J. French Van-Meter of Cresaptown, who were re-elected in 1958, are in a seven-man Republican primary contest for the three nominations. William C. Abbott, the third judge elected four years ago, died in January and has been succeeded by Raymond T. Farrell, this city, a Democrat. Judge Farrell is one of three Democrats filing who will compete in November against the three Republicans nominated. Another of the Democratic aspirants for judge of Orphans Court is Howard P. Loughrie, this city, who ran for sheriff on the Democratic ticket in 1958 and lost. There were no Democratic candidates for Orphans Court judge four years ago. Another of the GOP candidates is James O. Marshall, Lonaconing, who lost out in a five-man race for the Republican nomination four years ago.

Five Elected

Five members of the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee who were elected in 1958 have filed for re-election along with 14 other candidates for the seven positions on the committee. They include Thomas Elias, Frostburg; Victor M. Hebb, city; Edgar M. Lewis, city; Melvin S. Sloan, Lonaconing, and Thomas W. Williams, LaVale. J. Wallace Close, city, who is now the chairman of the committee, also has filed for a full four-year term. He was appointed to the committee to fill a vacancy. Four years ago there were 14 candidates for the seven committee posts.

Three of those elected to the County Democratic State Central Committee in 1958 are seeking re-election. They are John Ralph Kelly, city; William P. Kelly, Lonaconing, and F. Allan Weatherholt, city. William L. Wilson, the present chairman, also has filed for a four-year term. He was appointed as chairman following the resignation of Thomas B. Finan, Mr. Finan, who was elected to the committee in 1958, is a candidate for attorney general of Maryland this year.

the seven places on the Democ committee. Four years ago, when the committee had only six members, there were only seven candidates. One of the new candidates is Edward P. Flanigan of Frostburg, who was a Democ candidate for House of Delegates in 1958.

Two Republicans who lack primary opposition for four-year terms are filling their present posts by appointment. Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein was designated by former Governor Theodore R. McKeldin in one of his final acts to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Edward R. Muir who had just been re-elected in 1958. He resigned the following January and died last September.

James M. Roby, this city, was designated as register of wills by the judges of Orphans Court after A. Charles Stewart died in September 1960. Mr. Roby lacks both primary and general election opposition.

One of two Democrats running for sheriff this year is James P. Russell of Mt. Savage. Four years ago he was a candidate for county commissioner but lost in the primary.

Sunny Skies Turn Snow Into Slush

Area Digs Out After Continuous 42-Hour Storm

Activity in the Cumberland area quickened yesterday as sunny skies helped erase the effects of the worst snowstorm in years from streets and highways.

Temperatures in the middle 40s here helped to turn the wet snow into slush and by afternoon heavily traveled streets and highways were in excellent condition.

The snowstorm ranged in intensity from a heavy fall to flurries but was continuous for over 42 hours and dumped a wet blanket of snow totaling 28 inches upon the Cumberland area.

Lanes Widened

Even though the centers of highways were clear, several State Roads Commission crews were working last night to widen the cleared area so, a spokesman said, "if we get another snow we will have a place to put it."

The packed snow still totaled about 23 inches last night in Western Maryland.

As night came on the thawing stopped. In Garrett County, it was 29 above at 7 p. m. and had dropped to 13 above during the night. Allegany County's low was 27 above and it was 40 at 4 p. m.

The wet snow played hob with snow removal equipment, and some rigs broke down under the constant task. They will be put into top condition as soon as possible so they will be ready for the next snow.

Service Improves

Officials of the Potomac Edison Company and the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company reported general improvement in service to customers.

Trouble still to be cleared by the utilities was of a scattered nature.

Some 12 planes and equipment were reported damaged at the Burlington, W. Va., Airport after the quonset-type hangar collapsed from the weight of accumulated snow.

The extent of the damage was not available yesterday. Nobody was in the hangar when the roof collapsed.

Streets in downtown Cumberland were in good shape yesterday afternoon after Street Department crews and the sun removed the accumulation.

Clogged highways caused considerable absenteeism in area industrial plants.

Reserve Center Dedication Is Planned May 19

Local Committee Will Select Name

The new Army Reserve Center along U. S. Route 220 near the Amcelle plant will be dedicated on Saturday, May 19.

Lt. Col. F. L. Cawood, senior unit advisor to Cumberland's Army reservists, said the program will begin at 1:30 p. m.

Yesterday a local committee met at the center to make initial plans for the dedication program and also to discuss the naming of the new structure.

Thomas F. Conlon Sr. was named chairman of the local committee. He in turn named a committee to select a speaker for the program.

The committeemen include David J. Moreland, representing the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce; County Commissioner John J. Rowan and Fred Anderson, local attorney who represented the Cumberland Rotary Club at yesterday's meeting.

Invitations to the dedication program will be handled by Mayor J. Edwin Keech and Norman Messman, who represents the Cumberland Kiwanis Club, and Lt. Col Cawood. Bernard E. Sitter managing editor of The Cumberland News, was named publicity chairman.

Following the discussion of a number of names for the Reserve Center, it was decided not to take action until the next meeting of the committee. This will allow more time for additional names to be submitted.

Other members of the local committee are Dr. Robert S. Zimmer, president of Allegany Community College who represents the local Lions Club; Bruce Douglas, Junior Association of Commerce; and Rev. Melvin Hughson, the Optimist Club.

It is the custom that local committees plan dedication programs for Army centers, according to Colonel Cawood, who said it is also part of the Army policy, where possible, to name centers as memorials to local deceased war veterans.

Mobile Home Is Rejected; Appeal Set

The Allegany County Board of Appeals will conduct its fourth hearing in as many months next Thursday, March 15, in the county commissioners' meeting room at the Court House.

Alvy M. Kight applied for a building permit to locate a mobile home on the east side of Mount Pleasant Road about one-and-one-quarter miles north of U. S. Route 40. C. Lee Renaud, the county's planning director, turned down the permit.

Mr. Kight has requested the hearing on grounds that Mr. Renaud made an administrative error in refusing to grant the permit.

The application, according to notations on it, was rejected for three reasons. Mobile home regulations under the county's interim zoning ordinance provide that the floor area of a mobile home must be at least 500 square feet. Mr. Kight's mobile home was 45 by eight feet in size or 360 square feet.

A second reason cited for rejection of the application was that the mobile home would have only a temporary foundation. Mobile home regulations in residence districts provide that they shall be erected on permanent fully-enclosed and finished foundations. Finally, the application was rejected because the mobile home was simply to be placed on Mr. Kight's farm. The ordinance stipulates that all buildings, except those for agricultural purposes, shall be located on lots.

Members of the zoning appeals board are Everett Partridge, chairman; Wilbur Johnson and Ralph Cover. The first hearing in December resulted in rejection of the application while those heard in January and February were approved.

Sewage Plant Model To Be Demonstrated

A Hagerstown resident is interested in conferring with Allegany County officials in regard to a new and efficient sewage treatment plant designed for communities such as LaVale and Bowling Green.

C. W. Stump Jr. of Stumco Sanitary Products Company of Hagerstown wrote a letter to John J. Rowan, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Mr. Stump, who hopes to confer with Mr. Rowan and others the latter part of next week, indicated the treatment plant is especially efficient for areas such as LaVale, Bowling Green and similar size communities in the county.

He plans to demonstrate a model with emphasis on simplicity of construction and operation of the plant.

Mr. Stump said he is interested in contacting responsible individuals of the various communities which might be in the market for such a plant.

He enclosed data on the new activated sludge type sewage treatment plant. The letter was read at yesterday's meeting of the commissioners.

W.Va. To Ask U.S. Funds For Sugar Grove Center

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — West Virginia plans to seek federal aid towards construction of a proposed tourist center at the Navy's radio-stronomy facility in Sugar Grove, Pendleton County.

Natural Resources Director Warden M. Lane, following a meeting with Gov. W. W. Barron on the matter, said Wednesday the state hopes to get a grant for the project from the Area Redevelopment Administration.

If present plans work out, Barron would personally present the proposal to the ARA within a few weeks, Lane said. Such an award is permissable under the ARA regulations, he added.

The West Virginia Legislature appropriated $100,000 for the tourist center, but it's estimated that up to $1 million would be needed, including a new road to the facility.

Lane said the federal agency possibly could provide a grant on a 75-25 matching basis, with the state furnishing the latter amount of money. He said the state could come up with about $250,000 in matching money after July 1, including the Legislative allocation, certain State Road Commission money, and some funds of the Natural Resources Department.

The proposed tourist center would feature exhibits furnished by the Navy. But the building, a road, and furniture would be provided by the state.

The officials also were to have discussed future plans for the old Cass Railroad in Pocahontas County. The state hopes to turn it into a tourist attraction.

However, Lane said the matter was by - passed Wednesday and will be discussed at a later meeting. An additional $30,000 to $40,000 is needed to put the system into operation as a tourist lure.

Third Of County Candidates Appeared On '58 Ballot

Only slightly more than one-third of the 94 candidates who filed with the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors up to the deadline Monday at midnight appeared on the ballot in the last county-wide election four years ago.

Listed on the ballot again this year as they were in 1958 are 12 incumbent office holders, eight men who were elected to the Republican or Democratic committees four years ago, five defeated candidates who are trying for the same office, six defeated candidates of 1958 trying for different offices, three winners of 1958 now running for different offices and one defeated candidate who later was appointed to the job, filling a vacancy.

Appointees Running

There are four other appointees now running for a full term in the position they hold by appointment.

Five of the six incumbent members of the House of Delegates are seeking re-election. They are Lester B. Reed, Mt. Savage; Fred B. Driscoll, city; Noel Speir Cook, Frostburg, and Estel C. Kelley, city, all Republicans, and Thomas F. Conlon Jr., Democrat. The sixth member of the House of Delegates, William Walsh, Democrat, seeks election to the State Senate. Senator Charles M. See, a Republican, has filed to return to the House of Delegates.

A repeater in the Republican race for State Senate is George R. Hughes Jr., this city. He was involved in a very close primary contest with Senator See.

Four years ago in the House of Delegates' race there were 16 Republican candidates and five Democrats. This year there are 12 Republican candidates and six Democrats. Only three of the Republicans who lost out in the 1958 race are trying again and one of them has switched to the Democratic party. David J. Williams of Midland and Robert Lee Jeffrey of Lonaconing are in the GOP House race again. Irvin C. Alexander of Lonaconing, a Republican in 1958, will get to the November general election this year as a Democrat.

Another Republican candidate for the House of Delegates, Edward T. Evans Jr., this city, ran for the GOP State Central Committee in 1958. Although he was defeated, he later was appointed to fill a committee vacancy.

One of the Democratic nominees of 1958 for the House of Delegates who lost out in November, George A. Boch, 519 Beall Street, is a candidate once again.

Three Republican office holders who were elected in 1958 have no primary opposition this year. They are State's Attorney James S. Getty of Lonaconing, County Treasurer James W. Bishop of Cumberland and Clerk of Circuit Court Joseph E. Boden. Mr. Getty also has no general election opposition. They were unopposed four years ago, both in May and November.

All three county commissioners are seeking new four-year terms. John T. Mason and John J. Rowan, both Democrats, won in 1958 after gaining their party's nomination in a five-man primary race. This time there are six Democrats vying for the three nominations. The third county commissioner, Louis V. Shinnamon, placed fourth in a 12-man Republican primary race in 1958.

Apportioning Passes First Senate Test

Bill Will Need Stronger Support For Enactment

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A bill to reapportion the House of Delegates shakily survived its first test in the Maryland Senate Wednesday night, but will have to muster more strength to have a chance of passage.

The Senate voted 16-13 to substitute the bill for an unfavorable committee report, placing on the Tawes Administration the burden of switching at least two more votes for the bill if it is to have a chance.

Eighteen votes are required for Senate passage of a constitutional amendment. The bill will have its final voting test Thursday, the last day of the 30-day session, and will be battling a factor of time as well as attempts to amend it and send it back to the House of Delegates.

Sen. George E. Snyder, D-Washington, who voted for giving large counties more seats in Wednesday night's test, will offer an amendment to require those gaining to create new legislative districts.

Sen. Frederick C. Malkus Jr., D-Dorchester, who opposes the bill is expected to offer one providing that the change in delegations would not become effective until 1974, since the bill lets Baltimore City keep its present 36-delegate district makeup until then.

The issue was described in debate as the most important to come before the legislature at this session.

How It Works

The bill provides a plan which would be submitted to voters this fall—for keeping the House at its present 123 membership, guaranteeing every county at least two seats and redistributing the others on the basis of population.

Its effect would be to take away 13 seats from 10 counties and give them to five. Baltimore County would add 5 seats, Montgomery and Prince Georges 3 each, and Anne Arundel and St. Marys 1 each.

Allegany, Dorchester and Frederick counties would lose two seats each, and Carroll, Garrett, Somerset, Talbot, Washington, Wicomico and Worcester would lose one each.

Baltimore City would retain its 36 delegates but would be forced to draw new district boundaries by 1975 to more evenly reflect population.

Amendment Opposed

Del. Alger Y. Barbee, D-Montgomery, chairman of a House subcommittee which produced the bill finally approved by delegates, urged senators not to tack on a districting requirement. He said it would confuse the issue.

"Our delegation may not go along," he said "We don't want to redistrict in Montgomery County. It would not serve any useful purpose . .. Either give us reapportionment or give us nothing."

Barbee did not say positively, however, that he would oppose the bill if the only way it passed the Senate was with a districting requirement.

While the Senate faced its first test on reapportionment, the House passed the state's $22.3 million capital improvements program and sent it to the Senate. It enacted and sent to Gov. Tawes bills to reorganize the prison system under a commissioner of prisons and require humane methods of slaughtering livestock.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — What rights does a patient have in dealings with a doctor?

Do you, for example, have a right to complain when kept waiting 90 minutes after showing up promptly for an appointment?

Do you have a right to ask questions about a diagnosis, to call a doctor in the middle of the night, to insist on a house call when the doctor suggests you stop by the office?

These questions were among those put to Dr. Floyd C. Bratt, of Rochester, N.Y., during an interview. Dr. Bratt is president of the American Academy of General Practice, the family doctor's professional society.

Dr. Bratt's answers are one doctor's opinion about "a bill of rights" for patients nationwide.

"You have a right," he said, "to ask questions—and the doctor should feel free to answer them. You have a right to the time to ask questions since a doctor should not rush patients through as though they were inanimate objects on an assembly line."

Dr. Bratt, a family physician since 1929, said also that a patient has a right to an explanation that he understands when he asks the doctor a question.

Other points in the informal "bill of rights" for patients include the following:

—A right to reasonable promptness when keeping an appointment in the doctor's office. "The patient ought not to have to waste his time if he shows up on time," Dr. Bratt said. "If there is an emergency, a half hour wait is reasonable."

—A right to competence in the physician. "You have a right to expect that the doctor will do all for you within the limits of his ability, experience and training," Dr. Bratt said.

—A right to ask for a consultant if you want a second opinion about a diagnosis. "Every legitimate doctor should welcome and encourage this," Dr. Bratt said. "In a difficult case, there is no question that discussion helps."

—A right to call your doctor at any hour when ill. "But if you have been sick all day, be fair about it," Dr. Bratt said. "Don't wait until midnight to summon the doctor."

—A right to backstop doctors who will answer your requests for medical care when your doctor is away.

—A right to discuss fees and a right to feel no loss of dignity when you tell the doctor you cannot afford a fee. "A person who is not able to pay gets just as much attention as one who pays," Dr. Bratt said.

Some patients, of course, give the doctor a pain in the neck. Dr. Bratt finds irritating the patients who won't follow directions about diets or exercise. He said males are just as guilty as females.

He is annoyed also by patients who won't have prescriptions filled and those who have them filled but don't take the medicine.

Dr. Bratt, in New York for a "doctor-patient" symposium arranged by the American Medical Association and the Reader's Digest, told also how he looks on the typical patient.

"My patient is not a machine," he said. "I do not fix him the way the repairman fixes my television set. The penicillin may fix his infection, but it will not fix his very understandable concern.

"I am obligated by a certain empathy and my own interpretation of the Hippocratic oath to ease physical pain—and mental anguish."

Bored Heiress Works As Charwoman For 50 Cents An Hour

LONDON (UPI) —Mrs. H. V. Brandon carefully looked around her home to inspect the work of her new charwoman and said:

"I don't mind her being a millionairess."

For the charwoman is 18-year old Sibylla Edmonstone, who expects to inherit a fortune from the estate of Chicago department store founder Marshall Field.

Miss Edmonstone is the late multi - millionaire's great granddaughter. A spokesman in Chicago said she is the daughter of Gwendolyn Field Edmonstone, the sister of the late Marshall Field III, who was the grandson of the founder of the department store fortune.

The Daily Sketch and Daily Express said Wednesday the beautiful heiress had taken a charwoman's job she found through an agency because she gets bored in her own luxury apartment.

"I went into this because I like caring for children and because I can't do anything like this at home," the adventurous debutante said. "My housekeeper organizes all that."

Mrs. Brandon has five children. So Tuesday night Miss Edmonstone taxied from her $560 a month apartment to Mrs. Brandon's home to earn 50 cents an hour.

Miss Edmonstone's duties include housework in the morning and caring for the children during the afternoon. She said the pay was not important and that she was "quite prepared" to do a little scrubbing.

"A lot of hard work never hurt anybody," commented the "charwoman" who says she will inherit a fortune when she is 21. "I don't have much experience scrubbing floors but I can always learn."

But news of Miss Edmonstone's new job did not seem to make her brother too happy. Sir Archibald Edmonstone, 27, laird of Duntreath Castle in Scotland, was quoted as saying:

"I understand she is looking after children. But charring would certainly not be the sort of job I would expect her to do," considering her background.

"But, she is old enough to look after herself."

Chincoteague Devastated

CHINCOTEAGUE, Va. (AP)—A staff reporter for the Salisbury, Md., Times who landed on this tiny island community Thursday reported almost complete devastation.

Jim Nelson was able to land on the island in a helicopter as rescue teams from the Coast Guard worked feverishly to evacuate islanders still remaining.

"The place looked like Venice," he said. "Coffins are floating around in the streets, islanders are standing in several feet of water waiting bewilderedly for evacuation, and wreckage is everywhere."

James T. Lewis, 52, a life-time inhabitant said simply "Chincoteague is gone." Lewis told Nelson that "All our houses are gone, and nobody has any money to rebuild with."

Helicopters are removing residents from the Union Baptist Church, the firehouse and the island's high school, where they had taken refuge.

The Virginia Health Department has ordered all persons to evacuate for fear of contaminated water supplies.

Russians Killed

BERLIN (UPI) — The West Berlin newspaper Morgenpost said Thursday 20 Russian soldiers were killed March 1 in East Germany when a Berlin-Leipzig express crashed into a freight train at Scharfenbrueck, 40 miles south of Berlin.

Construction Program OK'd

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A $22.3-million capital improvements program for construction projects and land acquisition throughout the state was enacted Thursday by the Senate.

The total was $2.7 million higher than the $19.6 million recommended by Gov. Tawes Feb. 7. Some of the additions were requested by the governor, while the two finance committees tacked on several projects and deleted others from the original bill.

The state property tax rate was fixed at 16 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, one cent higher than last year. The revenue is used to pay off bond issues of previous years.

The Senate also enacted bills providing $5 million to supplement federal grants to municipalities under the Water Pollution Control Act, $500,000 for a dormitory at Hood College, increased pensions for certain state employes and supplemental pensions for certain retired school teachers.

Astronauts' Names

MOSCOW (UPI) — A Soviet couple is naming its newborn triplets after astronauts Yuri Gagarin, Gherman Titov and John H. Glenn Jr., the Tass News Agency reported Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Aleksandr Revkov, said they picked the names because they want their boys to be as "courageous and brave" as their namesakes.

Dr. Richard A. Prindle, medical director and deputy chief of the Public Health Service division of air pollution, will be guest lecturer. Other workshops to develop leaders in a respiratory health program will be held later throughout Maryland.

BOWIE, Md. (AP)—Three men were killed Wednesday night when the car in which they were riding went out of control and slammed into a culvert near the intersection of Maryland 197 and the Baltimore-Washington Expressway.

State Police identified two of the men as Clarence J. Brant, 47, Louisville, Ky., and Jesse M. Ringo, 42, Cheyenne, Wyo. The identity of the third victim was not known immediately. All were horsemen en route to Bowie Race Track.

Guardsmen To Man Missile Batteries

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army National Guardsmen will take over the 24-hour a day job of manning 16 Nike-Hercules anti-aircraft missile batteries protecting key cities in five states, the Army announced Thursday.

The Guardsmen will replace Army regulars in this job over the next 16 months.

The Maryland National Guard will be the first in the continental United States to take over a Nike-Hercules battery protecting the Washington-Baltimore area.

Later, Guardsmen in Ohio, New York, Michigan, and California will undertake the same tasks. The cities involved are Cleveland, Detroit, New York, Buffalo-Niagara Falls, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The Guard already operates six Hercules batteries in Hawaii.

Income Tax Take Up

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Comptroller's Office reported Thursday that net income tax receipts for February of this year were $1,783,982 more than for the same month in 1961.

Comptroller Louis Goldstein said the state received $17,352,617 last month compared to $15,568,635 for February last year.

Goldstein said the state's current fiscal year net receipts from income tax, after the first eight months, was $77,902,720 compared to $70,242,945 for the corresponding period last year.

Study Of Mining Diseases Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., asked the Public Health Service Thursday how much it would cost to establish "a well-planned strong program" to study the effect of mining diseases upon bituminous coal miners.

Byrd made the request at a subcommittee hearing on budget requests of the service for the year beginning July 1. He pointed out that the district in West Virginia which he formerly represented in the House has the largest coal production of any district in this country.

Legislators Vote Themselves Pay Boost

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Maryland legislators voted themselves a $1,200 annual pay raise Thursday, subject to approval by voters this fall.

The proposed constitutional amendment cleared the Senate 19-7, one more vote than necessary, after having earlier won House approval. It would boost the annual salaries from $1,800 to $3,000.

The bill was introduced in the House by Del. Charles F. Culver, D-Balto County. Similar bills have failed at past sessions.

LOW COST HOSPITAL PLAN FOR CATHOLICS

Catholic men and women can save on hospital insurance with our 81-year old non-profit society — the Catholic Knights of St. George. Here's an example:

With our 8027 Plan, a Catholic man under 61 pays only $1.85 a month. If he's hospitalized for any accident or sickness covered by the plan, he receives $50 a week for as long as he's hospitalized, up to 104 weeks. Payments of $100 or $150 a week are also available at slight extra cost.

Our 8027 Plan pays in addition to any other insurance. You can spend the money as you wish. The money is paid directly to you for hospital confinement from accidents originating after the moment your policy goes into effect.

Rates are kept low by excluding unusual conditions such as mental ailments, acts of war, injury or sickness in military service, dental treatment, or hospital confinement of less than 24 hours. For the more severe diseases covered, there is a brief 3-month waiting period. The plan is renewable at the option of the insured and the society.

Catholics of advanced ages can also get this plan. The cost is just a little more than for others.

Many other low cost plans are available from our society. Send for complete information including details on our excellent life insurance plans. By charter, applications are limited to Catholics.

Lt. Col. Charles H. Krabbe, information services officer, stated that 15th Air Force Reserve Officers have been appointed to act as liaison officers for the Air Force Academy in Maryland under the command of Col. Harvey Rivkins.

In the Sixth Congressional District, Lt. Col. Edward F. Kuklenicz, 1855 Preston Road, Hagerstown, will serve as advisor to young men in the district who desire additional information relative to admission procedures, qualifications, curriculum and career opportunities offered cadets at the Air Force Academy.

Films depicting cadet life at the Academy are available as are the liaison officers for speaking engagements to education, civic, fraternal, or student groups.

Interested groups should contact the Air Force Liaison Officer nearest them.

Lt. Col. Charles S. Linville from the Baltimore area serves in a roving capacity, in the event the district liaison officer is not available.

Snow Removal Equipment Is Hit By Storm

The 28-inch snowfall earlier in the week resulted in many breakdowns of equipment of the Allegany County Roads Department, according to Harry T. Skelly, roads supervisor.

At one two-hour period on Tuesday four axles on four separate trucks were broken due to the heaviness of the snow.

A large grader was knocked out of commission early in the storm period when a spindle on a front wheel broke, Skelly said.

The motors in two trucks which were equipped with snowplows also conked out. A rear end mechanism of another truck also was damaged.

Due to the critical need for equipment to open roads, the county rented three graders and a large bulldozer from contractors, Skelly said.

Most roads were in good shape yesterday but widening out of the traffic lanes was not possible because of the frozen snow and ice. The thawing which took place yesterday caused most snow to melt down to the bare surface of most roads.

R. E. L. Putman, maintenance engineer for the State Roads Commission district headquarters here, said the SRC had little trouble with equipment breakdowns and widening out of the traffic lanes has progressed nicely.

The situation on the various parking lots at public schools remains bad and the Board of Education has no heavy equipment with which to plow these areas, according to Joseph Downey, maintenance supervisor.

Downey said that arrangements for cleaning the Fort Hill High School parking lot will be requested of the City Street Department. The necessity for this snow plowing was emphasized by Downey who said that tonight the Buffalo (N.Y.) Philharmonic Orchestra is performing at the school auditorium.

In years past the city, county and state has been plowing entrances into the various schools but due to the heavy snowfall this work has been delayed due to the requirements of opening main highways and streets.

The State Roads Commission did plow into the Eckhart School to allow school buses to reach the school, Downey said.

Moorefield Youth Heads Student Body

Following in his father's political footsteps, Ralph J. Bean Jr., Moorefield, was elected president of the student body of West Virginia University in the balloting Wednesday at Morgantown.

Bean's father, a Moorefield attorney, spent several terms in the West Virginia Senate, serving as president for a number of years. Prior to that he was prosecuting attorney for Hardy County. Bean Sr. is a graduate of WVU.

Young Bean running on the Student Party slate, defeated his opponent, Thomas Hart of Morgantown by 1,943 votes to 943. Hart was the Mountaineer Party candidate.

A graduate of Moorefield High School in 1959, he served as president of his freshman class.

He was student coordinator on the student-faculty committee that prepared plans for the WVU Homecoming last fall.

A pre-law student, he is president of Helvetiae, an honorary society, and is a member of Kappa Alpha Fraternity and the "Phi Betar Kappar" popular society.

The Student Party headed by Bean, a junior, scored a clean sweep of the four top executive offices and captured 20 of the 29 seats in the Student Legislature from the Mountaineer Party.

A Berkeley Springs student, Ramona Potter, won a seat in the Legislature on the Student Party ticket from the School of Education.

Losing her race for the Legislature was a former Potomac State College student, Joan Ashby, Parkersburg, who was editor of the Pasquino, the PSC newspaper when she enrolled at the Keyser school.

Today the world's farmers produce one-third more food and other agricultural products than 20 years ago, an increase slightly greater than the increase in the world's population.
